Long-Standing Application for Major Restaurant On Nassau Street Finally Gains Zoners' Backing

In the wake of a decision by the Borough Zoning Board last week, it appears as if the Borough is about to lose a 12-lane bowling alley and gain a 232-seat restaurant.

In unanimously granting a waiver of 34 off-street parking spaces to Robert H. Poitras of Belle Mead, the board paved the way for Mr. Poitras to install a restaurant on the second floor of the building at 138 Nassau Street, presently occupied by the Princeton Recreation Center bowling lanes.

Mr. Poitras, a New York City businessman, also plans to build a row of retail and boutique-type shops on the first floor. A well-lighted arcade would connect Nassau Street with Lincoln Court in the rear, an "indoor street" some 300 feet long.

The board had postponed making a decision until the findings of a survey of vacant Borough off-street parking spaces it had requested were available. The findings figured heavily in the board's decision.

It had also suggested that the applicant consider reducing the number of seats, but he declined to do so. Mr. Poitras's attorney Gordon C. Strauss, told the board that the suggestion was inconsistent with testimony revealing that the building was capable of handling that number of seats.

Other Plans Rejected. The lack of availability of off-street parking in the center of town has stymied the expansion plans of many applicants in the past. The same morning the Poitras decision was revealed, the board received word to expect an application from Lahiere's Restaurant on Witherspoon Street for an increase in seating.

The parking situation in the Borough, however, has been changing, according to Miss Jean Taube, secretary of the Zoning Board.

Miss Taube points out that the Borough has increased the number of parking spaces in some lots, particularly Witherspoon; eliminated much long-term parking as well as some meters in other lots—all combining to help alleviate the problem.

The survey taken by John W. Jackson, superintendent of parking meters, of the Tulane West, Witherspoon and Park Place lots (all within 400 feet of 138 Nassau) revealed a surprising number of empty spaces.

Taken at 12:30, 6 and 8 p.m. during the week of April 14-18, the survey revealed that the number of empty spaces available in the three lots ranged from a low of 24 on a Friday at 12:30 to a high of 208 on a Tuesday at 8, averaging 68 at 12:30, 184 at 6 and 152 at 8.

"In 15 different time studies of the three lots—except in one case—the number of empty spaces exceeded 34," Mr. Strauss told the board. Two months ago, he had submitted his own survey of the lots taken at five different time intervals. His findings ranged from a low of 54 to 198 empty spaces.

David Burrough, owner of the bowling lanes since 1959, had his own survey involving bowlers using his lanes for league play. "Almost all drive in; very few live in the Borough," he said. The number of spaces used on Tuesday was 78, 61 on Wednesday, 71 on Thursday, 65 on Friday and 24 on Sunday.

Last week he testified before the board that after requesting information from a bowling manufacturer about the number of parking stalls needed for a 12-lane house, he was told 70 was the minimum number. Add a cocktail lounge and luncheonette, and you need more, he said. He has a lounge on the second floor.

NEW USE FOR AN OLD BUILDING: This is the seldom-seen rear portion of the building that houses the Princeton Recreation Center bowling lanes at 138 Nassau Street. At one time a livery stable, shooting gallery and for many years the Arcade movie theater, the property last week received the necessary zoning relief that will allow it to be converted to a 232-seat restaurant. Described by one architect as resembling a fortress, the building's walls on the first floor are reported to be two feet thick.

"When someone comes to my place to bowl, he spends a minimum of three hours on a league night. I know some who park their cars at 6:30 and stay 'til 11. You won't spend that much time eating," he told the board.

Two months ago, testifying as a real estate expert, Karl Light stated that the effect of a restaurant and retail shops on Princeton merchants would be "extremely beneficial."

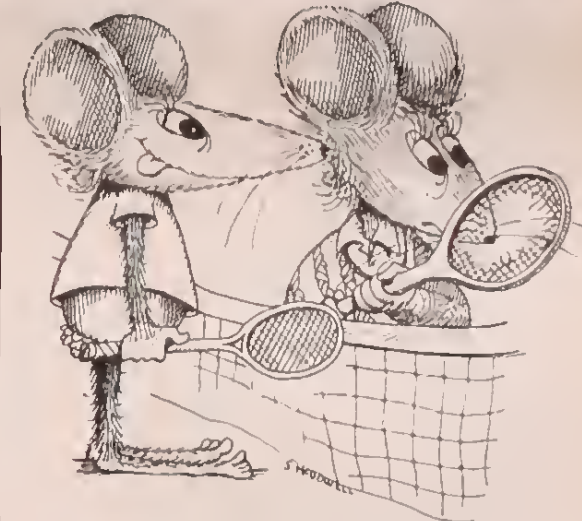

"Most new restaurants are outside the central business district perimeter, none in the core area. The core area is vital to the health of a town. Add a restaurant and a small arcade and it would be very attractive for the continual vitalizing of the core area.

"Of all the uses permitted by right and those conditionally, this stands out as the most appealing," he said.

That opinion was backed up by Mr. Strauss, who told the board last week that Mr. Burrough had been trying to sell the property for a number of years. "Nobody showed any interest in buying or renting except restaurant owners; no one wants it except restaurant owners."

He continued that Mr. Burrough was in a unique and

High Bacteria Counts in Various Foods At Eating Places Found in Health Check

Princeton's eating places and food markets, always subject to spot checks by municipal and state health officers, are now faced with a new kind of check-up. Borough officials are taking food samples—"anything with mayonnaise" in the words of Health Officer David Blake—for laboratory analysis to see whether the samples meet state bacterial standards.

But the irony is this: the restaurant or market can keep its "satisfactory" rating even if its food doesn't meet these state standards.

The new program began April 11. Food samples are now checked every two weeks, and one is coming up late this week. Tuna fish, chicken salad and egg salad are the items on the menu most likely to go under the microscope.

In the most recent—May 16—report from Garden State Laboratories, two Princeton eating establishments were found to have coliform bacteria in salad preparations and one had staph as well. On a state health scale in which 100 is the top allowed count for both coliform and staph, P.J.'s Pancake House had 410 for coliform and 11,000 for staph in the chicken salad. However, the staph count for tuna was zero, and the coliform count under the 100 ceiling at 60.

for its tuna and egg salads, according to April 25 figures.

The Colonial's egg salad "plate count" was 71,000,000 and its direct microscope bacteria count, 90,000,000 on May 16.

Eating places often buy these salads from outside sources, even out-of-state sources, Borough health officers say. Mr. Blake and Mr. O'Hara check the temperatures of food when it arrives, storage temperatures and the health and cleanliness of people handling the food.

In the most recent "housekeeping" spot check done by Borough and state health officials on May 20, the Nassau Club, a private club at 6 Mercer, was closed for a day. It re-opened May 21. Mr. O'Hara and the state inspector found roaches; accumulations of dirt on shelves; odor in the men's room; debris, dirt and dust on the floors of lavatories and vestibule; glasses stored on dusty shelves.

On that same inspecting day, P.J.'s was given a "conditional." This was a re-inspection trip to see whether a previous "conditional" rating had been improved.

Violations Bring Fines. The state levies a fine after three "conditionals" in a row. At an April 3 inspection, P.J.'s was found to have live, egg-carrying roaches, "heavy accumulations" of food particles and dirt, deep splits on wooden cutting boards, dried food on a slicer, slime and dirt on the loose metal sheeting around a dishwasher, and pancake batter in a bucket in the sink. The establishment was ordered closed, and allowed to open the next day.

The Alchemist and Barrister was fined $175 by the state after four successive "conditional" ratings between November 15 and March 18. Complaints listed food residue in cracks of cutting surfaces and accumulations of grease in refrigerator door gaskets. Buxton's was also fined. It has had a "satisfactory" rating since March 10 and the Alchemist and Barrister has had "satisfactory" since May 12.

Grease is a villain in these housekeeping problems, health officers point out. It is particularly so with Italian restaurants, where oil is heavily used in cooking and where the menu is apt to be large. Night crews are supposed to move in when the restaurant closes but if the manager has gone home for the day, the crew may not do a thorough job, and the day crew coming in to cook breakfast may not have time for a thorough clean-up.

If continuing high bacteria counts turn up in these new reports, Mr. Blake says Borough officials may simply direct a restaurant to drop the item from the menu.

The Food Mart had a 64,000 count for coliform in tuna fish salad, but a zero count for staph.

"Celery is often the problem," says Andrew O'Hara Jr., sanitary inspector, "and we think that's what it was with the Food Mart."

Other Offenders. The preceding report, on April 25, found egg salad at Harry's Luncheonette with a 1,200 coliform count and the tuna fish and egg salad with a staph count of 1,600 and 6,700 respectively. The same report found a coliform count of 320 in the A & S egg salad. The Nassau Deli and the Carousel were clean on both.

Other bacterial counts, broader than these, are also made by the lab. On a "plate count" of bacteria with 100,000 the allowable top, P.J.'s had 21,000,000 for its chicken salad and 240,000 for tuna, according to the May 16 report.

In the "direct microscopic bacteria" count with 1,000,000 the top, A & S had 24 million

Decision by N.J. Supreme Court Could Cost Regional Schools over $600,000 in State Aid

Princeton may lose $622,496 in state school aid for 1976-77 as a result of the State Supreme Court's decision on school financing handed down last Friday.

If New Jersey's legislature doesn't come up with a better way to finance public schools than local property taxes, said the court, the court itself will order the state to re-distribute $290,000,000 in state aid so that poorer districts get more, and richer districts get less. Princeton is regarded as a richer district.

The $290,000,000 is about one-third of the amount New Jersey's schools receive in state aid. It consists of the minimum aid that every district gets, and the "save-harmless" money that assures each district it will get no less than it received in 1972-73. For Princeton, this is about $622,000.

Princeton does not yet have an official dollar figure. Superintendent Philip E. McPherson said this week, and the $622,496 is an estimate. He pointed out that the action will not take effect until '76 and '77 and added, in regard to the court's decision, "I'm not so sure things won't change now."

"We must decide in the next six months whether to cut the budget significantly to keep the tax level or raise taxes," he said. "One way, it hurts your pocketbook and the other way, it hurts pretty dramatically the kind of educational program we have."

Dr. McPherson said that "in gross terms," he sees a definite connection between dollars and good education. When you consider that we spend twice as much in Princeton as in Newark, to argue whether more money will make a difference for kids in Newark, is ridiculous. It is almost impossible for it not to improve, for Newark."

The superintendent observed that the NJEA (the New Jersey Education Association) is "upset" about the court decision.

"They have political clout," he said, "legislators may not be so comfortable incurring the wrath of the NJEA."

Winthrop Pike, Princeton's school board president, said, "It can't help but pull the local situation down. It will simply make for mediocrity by pulling all good districts down. We'll have to meet it by a combination of cuts, and tax increases and I'm not in a position now to say how much of each."

and so on."

Princeton's new site plan ordinance is more stringent than the current one, but Mr. Yedlin is prepared to submit under the present ordinance, computations required under the future one, the mayor said.

stolen from a car parked in a Princeton University lot near Palmer Stadium. A vent window had been forced open.

The next day, the brief case, typewriter and umbrella were recovered on Aqueduct Road in Kingston and returned to their owner, identified as John T. Serabian of Cloisters. The recovered property was valued at $130.

An employee of the Hun School, Kim Enders, told

STILL NO DECISION

On Public Housing. The Township's public housing project, usually called the Yedlin project after its developer, still hasn't received the word on site plan review from the Princeton Regional Planning Board.

The Township's own site plan review board will meet this Thursday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall, to discuss the plan, and the Planning Board will hold a special executive meeting next Tuesday, everyone hoping for a decision at the board's June public meeting. It has been scheduled for next Wednesday, June 4, instead of the usual first-Tuesday date because of primary elections.

A June 1 deadline referred to by the Housing Authority, has turned out to be more flexible, said Township Mayor Jay Bleiman this week. In a talk with Richard Fishbough of the Camden office of HUD (the Housing and Urban Development Agency), Mayor Bleiman said he was told that HUD is prepared to go along with the Planning Board's desire for a thorough review.

"There are legitimate environmental concerns," the mayor said, and the board wants "hard data" from specialists like geologist Erling Dorf, the Planning Board's own consultant, and engineers.

"We have the responsibility to submit this application to the same rigorous analysis as any other application," he said. "The question is one not only of density, but of density at this particular site. Plus questions of denuding the site where the units for the elderly are planned, and such matters as runoff, surface drainage

ANYBODY IN CLASS?

55 Percent Out Monday. Well, about 45 percent of the kids, anyway, and some 67 percent of the teachers.

Monday was Memorial Day—a legal holiday—and Princeton's public schools were in session until 1 p.m. But 1,960 of the 3,574 went fishin'—a 55 percent absentee rate.

It's hard to count noses on teachers because many are part-time and wouldn't have been there on a Monday anyway. But 196 of the staff of 290 attended, and 46 substitutes were hired. At $26 a day, that's a $1,196 bill for the in-school holiday.

Originally, the calendar said Memorial Day would be a school day if the emergency days went over the top. They did. Good Friday was declared a holiday because the schools couldn't staff the classrooms. There were two emergency days, and that left one day to be made up.

Administration officials suggested that Memorial Day be a holiday, and the extra day made up in June, but the school board voted down the proposal, 7-0.

Heat Wave's Over

If you think
The day is hot,
One minute later
Brrrrrr! It's not!

Not that the lunar eclipse had anything to do with it, but just about the time the earth's shadow was moving across the face of the moon, the thermometer began to drop. From its record-breaking high of 93 on Saturday, it plummeted all the way to 54 next morning.

By Monday, matters were more or less back to normal and the Man thinks they'll stay that way for a while. Temperatures through the weekend will average in the high 70s during the daytime, and not much in the way of precipitation is in sight.

police that a stereo tape deck valued at $100 and approximately $100 worth of tapes were stolen last week from her car while it was parked on Bertrand Drive. Police said the car had been locked.

Borough police report the theft of a television set and stereo radio.

The television set was taken from a student's room in Dayton Hall on the Westminster Choir College campus (entry was through a sliding window) and the stereo radio from a car parked on Vandeventer. There was no sign of forced entry.

The TV set was valued at $75; the stereo, owned by a nurse residing in Lambert House at the Princeton Medical Center, was valued at $100.

Two green tarps, valued at $34.98, were stolen from the rear of The Whole Earth Center, 360 Nassau Street. The front wheel of a girl's bike was stolen Monday. The frame had been secured to a bike rack on the Princeton High School grounds, police said.

A brown leather purse containing $8 was stolen from a Princeton University building at 185 Nassau, the old Nassau Street School. Police report that the victim was a New York model posing for sculpturing being done there.

In one of two breaking and enterings reported by Township Police, Robert Massie and Stephen Chanock of Room 212, 1922 Hall, on the University campus, lost articles valued at $804.

A pillow case was used to carry out a tape machine, pocket calculator, 35mm camera and two camera lenses. The $200 camera was recovered on the ground outside the victims' ground-floor window. Police said that a screen over the window had been cut.

A man sleeping on a couch at 8 Birch Avenue early Friday morning lost $65 when his trousers and wallet were stolen. Police said that the victim, Robert G. Seckers, 142 W. Delaware Avenue, Pennington, was awakened at 1:40 when he heard the intruder in the room.

He also lost a N.J. National Bank check book and his savings passbook. Police said the intruder slipped the lock on the front door.

FOUR FINES IMPOSED

On Township Driver. Aluisius P. Goosen, 223 Mount Lucas Road, appeared in Township Court last week to answer four separate traffic charges.

He was fined $35 and $60 for driving an unregistered and uninsured car and $35 for using false licence plates. He was also fined $25 for speeding but Judge Philip Carchman suspended the $15 fine for that and ordered Mr. Goosen to pay the $10 court costs.

Edward G. Fitzell, 153 Washington Road, was fined $210 for driving while on a revoked list, and Julie Browder, 31 Hodge Road, paid $110 and had her license revoked for 30 days for allowing an unlicensed driver to operate her motor vehicle.

Stop-sign violations cost Bruce E. Jacobson of Pennington and Joan Budny of Penns Neck Circle, $25 each. Clifford A. Hess, 246 Nassau Street, was fined $60, unregistered car, and Edward N. Caras, 104 Leabrook Lane, was fined $25, speeding.

Michael P. Marcus, Deer Creek Drive, Plainsboro, paid $20 for following too closely. Robert G. Butts, 98 Jefferson Road, forfeited $17 bail when he failed to appear to answer a charge of parking in a prohibited area.

ENTERTAINMENT SET

At Great Fete. Fans of music, dance and theatre will find programs of their favorite thing performed by numerous Princeton area groups on an all-day schedule Saturday at the Great Fete. These open air performances are free, and all the performers have volunteered their time and talents for the benefit of the Medical Center and the enjoyment of Fete-goers. Co-chairmen Caroline Moseley and Margaret Lambert have assembled a varied program.

Story Theatre leads off at 10:15. This group of students from Princeton High School will present their interpretation of Thurber fables and Ogden Nash verses, guaranteed to charm children and amuse parents.

They will be followed by a presentation of "Peter and the Wolf" performed by young dancers of the Princeton Ballet Society who have toured many schools with this production. Next will be the "High Plains Drifters," well-known to local country music fans for country-rock and country western numbers. The nostalgic favorite, barbershop quartets, will be presented by the SPEBQSA, known in full as the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

The Princeton Ethnic Dancers, led by Lee Arons, will once again be a highlight of the Fete. They perform various international folk dances in traditional costumes, and Fete-goers are encouraged to join in. Scenes from "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented by the Princeton Opera Association, who will also give other brief operatic pieces, and a "Mini Folk Festival" will be given by the Princeton Folk Music Society, a sampler of ballads, blues and work songs where everyone is urged to join in the chorus.

Last in time, but high in favor on the program, is Dusty Rivers, Rock'n Roll band. They will finish off the day's entertainment and stay on the play for the Elephant Stomp, the teen dance in the big tent.

DEGREES FOR 243

At Seminary. Degrees will be awarded to 243 at the 163d annual Commencement exercises of Princeton Theological Seminary on Tuesday at 10:30 in the Princeton University Chapel. The commencement address will be given by the Rev. Dr. David B. Watermulder, pastor of the Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, Presbyterian Church. He is a 1945 graduate of Princeton Seminary whose son Paul is completing his first year at the institution.

The Seminary's Baccalaureate Service, to be held in the Nassau Presbyterian Church at 4 Sunday, will have

LIGHT NIGHT EXPECTED

For Township Committee. Music from this summer's three youth concerts will come out loud and clear if Township Committee gives permission to the Joint Recreation Board to amplify the sound.

Permission is required under the Township's noise ordinance. The request will be made at Committee's first June meeting next Monday.

Two public hearings have been scheduled: the senior citizen taxi service ordinance, and the ordinance amending the electrical code.

BUSY DAY IN COURT

For Princeton Man. William K. Blackburn, 48, 97 Mountain Avenue, no stranger to Borough court, appeared last week before Judge Philip Carchman to answer a number of charges.

He was found guilty on one charge of being drunk and disorderly and fined $35. He also received a 30-day suspended sentence. For being excessively loud on Nassau Street, he was fined $35 for violating the Borough's noise ordinance.

Papers concerning three additional charges of threatening a life, offensive language and drunk and disorderly were sent to the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office for further action.

He was found guilty on two more charges: loud and abusive language and offensive language and obstructing and interfering. Blackburn was represented by Richard Bookspan, a court-appointed attorney. Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt was the complainant.

The papers of George W. Kornegay, 21, 14 Quarry Street, and Melvin Miller, 18, 71 Clay Street, both charged with robbery, were sent to the Prosecutor's Office for possible Grand Jury action.

Kornegay was also charged with a second offense of sodomy.

DAY CARE STUDIED

At Stuart. Stuart Country Day School is undertaking a feasibility study to determine the need for a creative child care program which would offer afternoon activities for Stuart's pre-school and kindergarten age youngsters.

Responding to inquiries by professional parents who desire responsible care for their children between the hours of 11:30 and 3:30, Stuart may initiate a program which will provide lunch, nap and play for children between the ages of 3½ and 5.

At this time two sessions are being considered, one from September to the Christmas holidays, and the other from January to the end of the school year. Registrations will be taken for either session or for the full year.

unenviable situation where he cannot afford to take a day off or hire anyone else because a 12-lane bowling alley—an anachronism today—does not provide sufficient income. "Consequently, he is digging a hole in which he finds himself deeper and deeper."

"I feel all the negative criteria have been overcome," Mr. Strauss concluded adding that a restaurant would coincide with the master plan for the central business district.

Mr. Poitras had made the same application for the same building more than a year ago but had been turned down by the board because, in addition to parking relief, he also needed a use variance. He appealed the decision in court.

Recently, while the case was still in litigation, the area was rezoned. A restaurant was a permitted use and all Mr. Poitras needed was a parking waiver. In effect, the Judge, as a consequence, remanded the case to the zoning board.

LAW OFFICE APPROVED

On Nassau Street. The Borough Zoning Board last week also approved the application of attorney Sydney Souter for a conditional use permit that would allow him to convert half of a double house at 231 Nassau Street to a law office. The first floor was formerly occupied by University Radio and Electric.

Mr. Souter needed the use permit because he is changing from residential to office use. He also received four bulk variances involving coverage, front yard, combined side yard and smaller side yard. He told the board that there would be no external alterations. The new occupants: Souter & Kettell. Mr. Souter presently has an office at 44 Nassau Street.

Murray S. Bailey received a conditional use authorization to convert one half of a two-family duplex at 47 Wiggins Street from one dwelling to two dwelling units. The building, located on separate tax lots, is in an R-4 zone.

Mr. Bailey told the board that almost all the properties on Wiggins are two-family dwellings. He also agreed to a board stipulation that he rearrange the inside plumbing.

William Dumble, 49 Wiggins, the only one to question the application, told the board that the refuse from the second floor was "designed to come down through the wall and out our cellar." On occasion, he said, it backed up and created a mess.

"I think every property should take care of its own refuse," he told the board.

In another case, involving R. Peter Hodge, Inc., and property Mr. Hodge owns at 32 Vandeventer Avenue, negotiations are still continuing between the board and the applicant's lawyer following the board's ruling. "The entire matter has not been completely resolved," said a spokesman for the Zoning Board.

Mr. Hodge has been seeking a reversal of a zoning officer's ruling concerning a storage barn on the rear of the property and a conditional use authorization for a multi-family dwelling in the front of 32 Vandeventer.

PRIMARIES TUESDAY

Choice for County Executive. Last November, Mercer County voters decided by a 40,688 to 34,690 vote, to change the form of government in the county. Under this change, Mercer will have a full-time, elected executive to run the county. That executive will be chosen in the November elections, and in next Tuesday's primary, voters will decide which Democrat will run against which Republican for the new job.

The contest is most heated in the Democratic party. Freeholder Director Arthur Sypek is running against Trenton Mayor Arthur Holland. On the Republican side, W. Harry Sayen, Republican County Chairman, is running against Paul Petito, of the Trenton Local Assistance Board.

Mr. Holland is emphasizing voters' desire for a change, as evidenced in last November's vote, open government, making the county responsive to regional needs, and budgetary considerations.

Mr. Sypek points to his long record of county and municipal service, his many years as Freeholder, and Mercer County's record as an efficient and highly-regarded county.

Freeholder Sypek has the backing of the Democratic organization. State Senator Anne Martindell and Princeton Borough Council member Barbara Sigmund are helping to run his campaign. Elaine Schuman of Princeton, Mercer County Director of Consumer Affairs, has also endorsed him. He has been endorsed by ten public-employee unions in the county, at the last count.

Mr. Holland has the backing of a group of Princeton residents led by Mrs. Catherine McGrath. A non-partisan mayor of Trenton, he regards himself as a Democrat but is not so regarded by many in the party structure.

Mrs. McGrath is charging that Mercer County Democratic chairman Richard Coffee and Mr. Sypek tried to defeat the change-of-government question on November's ballot, and she says Democrats in two Trenton wards and Ewing and Hamilton Townships acknowledge this. She challenges Mr. Sypek's claim to leadership ability and asks why he didn't over-ride Mr. Coffee and stop the campaign to kill the county change measure.

Mr. Sypek has characterized these charges as "baloney."

Township Mayor Jay Bleiman said this week he didn't see the issues as open government, but as land use, housing and roads. He said that when Princeton Township needs something from the county, "we can get it done; we have gotten on very well with the county in inter-governmental matters."

Which candidate has the most balanced view of the county and which will do best for Princeton? the mayor asked, adding he felt Mr. Sypek was the answer.

Mrs. McGrath asks why Mr. Sypek did not appear at a planned meeting last Tuesday at Princeton High, and at a NOW meeting on Wednesday.

"If my opponent is elected, essentially the same cast of characters both invisible and visible, will continue to control the affairs of Mercer County," Mr. Holland said this week. "I would also take a careful look at what we have received for a 300 percent increase in the budget in the eight years of my opponent's stewardship in the county."

Mr. Sayen is regarded as clearly the winner in the Republican race. He says the county's $41 million budget and its administration is the key issue. He also interprets the November vote as a sign voters want a change.

A Republican, he says he believes the county has been under one-party control "too long."

Mr. Petito emphasizes economy, allowing seniors to ride buses free and giving them housing discounts. He declares he is opposed to any new taxes, and would like an overhauled welfare system.

BOARD OPENS DOOR

To Executive Sessions. The budget and public communications occupied the school board Tuesday night at the first experimental open session of the board.

The next will be Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Valley Road building. Agendas for these sessions will be in each school building the Monday before the Tuesday meeting.

Board member J.B. Smith suggested taking $200,000 from the reserves to cope with the budget, outlined $109,000 in expenditures to renovate the high school: new stairs to the balcony ($16,000) lab. work ($90,000) and mat storage ($90,000) and mat storage ($3,000).

Mayor Pike and member Dietrich Meyerhofer expressed surprise. "When did these ideas come about?" Mr. Meyerhofer queried, and Mr. Pike said, "We've never seen any plans." Both said the board needed plans for discussion.

Business manager Ronald Novak said the items had been on a capital budget memo. He told the board construction might not start until the end of summer, and would be done by school employees.

Should the board read aloud in public meeting letters presented by citizens? The board argued the difference between reading such a letter, and allowing the citizen to say the same things from the audience. When a communication is read by a citizen, observed board member Joan Doig, damage can be done to an individual before the board president can make an "out of order!" ruling.

When Mr. Pike asked whether written comments to the board were public, for anyone to look at, Superintendent Philip E. McPherson said he thought they were.

Mrs. Doig suggested the problem be presented to school staff, for discussion at the June 10 meeting, and possible policy action in the fall.

CAFETERIA TO OPEN

To Senior Citizens. The Princeton Red Cross has announced that the RCA David Sarnoff Research Center is planning to open its cafeteria June 16 to residents 62 and over who live in Princeton, Rocky Hill, Montgomery, Plainsboro, Kingston, Lawrenceville, Cranbury, and West Windsor.

They will be able to use the cafeteria at the RCA Research Center for noon meals on weekdays whenever the Research Center is open, according to Elise H. Nicol of the RCA Personnel Services staff. The cafeteria offers a menu ranging from sandwiches, soups and salads to complete hot meals including desserts and beverages for a cost of $2 or less, depending on the selection.

The Dundas Corporation, a family corporation which owns the structure, wants to add two more stories to the building and use the entire first floor for retail purposes. Originally, part of the first floor was assigned to parking. The building, on the corner of Markham Road, has been in an uncompleted state for half a dozen years.

Detailed information about cafeteria hours, directions for parking, etc. will be provided at registration. However, the Princeton Red Cross, 924-2404, will answer questions concerning the new service.

The David Sarnoff Research Center is one of several RCA facilities to offer this service. Last year the RCA Astro-Electronics Division opened its cafeteria to senior residents of Hightstown and East Windsor Township and registration for that facility continues at several sites in those communities.

IAN WALKER RESIGNS

From Watersheds Association. The Board of Trustees of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association has announced that Ian R. Walker has resigned as Executive Director effective June 30. He has been appointed as the key water resources environmental analyst in the State Department of Environmental Protection (DEP).

Walker has headed the Watersheds Association for the past five years, in a period when it assumed a leadership role in pointing out the links between sewer routes and suburban sprawl, in addition to a broad range of environmental and educational activities. Association Co-Chairmen Mrs. A.V.S. Olcott and Jerome P. Webster, Jr. said, "We are very sorry to lose Ian's services, but it is gratifying to know that the Association's perspective and approach to problem solving will now be applied to state-wide programs."

Walker will serve as top aide to Assistant Commissioner Rocco D. Ricci and will lead a professional staff of 12 in developing environmentally-sound water resource programs and projects for the Division of Water Resources. The programs include water supply, solid waste, flood plain management, water pollution control, notably including sewer facilities planning and design.

A search for his successor is under way.

Income Tax Which Would Reduce Property Taxes Backed as Solution to State's Fiscal Problems

If New Jerseyans had to choose a way of solving the state's budget crisis they would opt for a plan which includes a state income tax. The New Jersey Poll, conducted by the Eagleton Institute of Rutgers University, asked a statewide sample of over 1000 residents about five proposals to bridge the over $400 million deficit in the state budget projected by Governor Byrne.

No proposal was supported by a majority of the respondents to the Poll. The proposal that received the most support was an income tax that would "make up the budget deficit and also provide some reduction in local property taxes." This proposal was opposed by a slim 47-44 margin.

A lower income tax which would "only raise enough funds to make up the deficit but nothing else," was also narrowly opposed by a 48-42 plurality. A higher income tax which would "provide additional funds for state programs and services" was rejected by a wide 62-28 margin.

A "nuisance" tax package which would involve "increasing the state sales tax and some other taxes" was also opposed by a clear 64 to 29 majority.

If no tax plan was acceptable to a majority of the Poll's respondents neither was a plan to balance the budget which called for "the state government to get rid of the deficit by laying off a large number of government workers and reducing state programs and services." Such cutbacks were rejected by a sizable 65-28 majority.

The Poll then asked the sample which one of these five proposals they would favor "if they had to choose one." Over half - 54 percent - said they would favor one of the three plans which included a state income tax. An income tax combined with property tax relief did best receiving support from 26 percent. A smaller income tax designed solely to meet the projected deficit was favored by 18 percent. Only 10 percent favored a higher income tax that would provide additional funds to the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McPherson, 451 Probasco Road, Hightstown, May 21.

Also to Mr. and Mrs. John De Francis, Hampton Arms, East Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Burton Stein, 321 Evanston Drive, East Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pinelli, 204 Opossum Road, Skillman, all on May 23; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Doggett, 135 Purdy Street, Hightstown; and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Goldman, 1748 Sandhills Road, Monmouth Junction, both on May 24.

TO ASSIST FOREIGNERS Coming to University. For the first time, The International Center at Princeton University will be open on weekday mornings during July and August to assist newly-arrived foreign students, faculty and staff of Princeton University and will maintain a central welcoming facility. With offices staffed by volunteers at 5 Ivy Lane, the Center has a growing file of information helpful to newcomers, including a language pool and a list of host families.

Many foreign students already at Princeton are seeking hospitality and odd jobs during the summer

The "nuisance tax" package which would not include an income tax was chosen by just 16 percent. Only 13 percent favored balancing the budget by laying off government workers and cutting back stateservices.

Dr. Stephen A. Salmore, Director of the New Jersey Poll, said, "The results of this latest Poll confirm that no tax is popular these days but that if forced to choose between new taxes and cutbacks New Jerseyans opt for an income tax, particularly if it leads to reduced property taxes."

Dr. Salmore added that, "Combining an income tax with property tax reform appears to be the critical element that would make an income tax acceptable to suburbanites and high income respondents, two groups that would be hardest hit by such a tax."

The Sixteenth New Jersey Poll was conducted by telephone from the Eagleton Institute of Politics, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J., between May 5 and 11. A scientifically selected random sample of 1005 N.J. residents 18 years of age or over was interviewed.

months, and more host families are being sought to meet their needs. Anyone able to offer assistance or wishing to learn more about the Center may call the office, 452-5006, Monday through Friday, noon to 4, or after June 15, 10-11 a.m. Special events are being planned to introduce the overseas members of the University to members of the community.

The Center, which opened officially last December, is the culmination of years of effort on the part of members of the Princeton University League and the Princeton Friends of Foreign Students. Space was made available through the generosity of the University, and a lounge and study were furnished by gifts from interested friends of the Center.

PSALM POEMS TOPIC
For Delaware Valley Poets. "Singers of Israel" is the title of a talk to be given by the Rev. John Bishop, Thursday, June 19, at 8 in the staff lounge of Firestone Library at the monthly meeting of the Delaware Valley Poets.

The talk will deal with types of poetry found in the Book of Psalms. The Rev. Dr. Bishop, a Princeton resident who holds a doctorate from Drew University, was a Methodist minister for more than 40 years.

TEN DAYS REVIEWED
By Historical Society. The Hopewell Valley Historical Society will present a slide lecture entitled, "In-Depth Look at the 10 Days of Hopewell Valley - December 25, 1776, to January 3, 1777" by Dr. Kimble Widmer, Saturday from 1-4 in Titus Hall of the First United Presbyterian Church of Pennington. Refreshments will be served, and the public is invited.

CEDAR FROM CLAREMONT, CALIF.: Stanley Smoyer, chairman of the Princeton Community Bicentennial Committee, wields the shovel which transplanted an incense cedar tree from Princeton's sister city during the Bicentennial, while Pamela Hearne, Princeton-Claremont liaison, Mayor Robert Cawley, Princeton Borough Mayor and Harley Kemmerer of Princeton's Shade Tree Commission look on. Princeton has sent a red oak, the New Jersey state tree, to Claremont.

Dr. Widmer, a graduate of Princeton and a Hopewell Valley resident, is a New Jersey State geologist and a lecturer specializing in New Jersey Revolutionary history. A retired colonel of the U.S. Army, he is adjunct professor at the Military Academy at West Point. He was the first president of the Princeton Battlefield Preservation Society and is a fellow of the Company of Military Historians and a consultant for the new map, "Battles and Skirmishes of the American Revolution in New Jersey."

MILLICENT FENWICK REPORTS

TO THE 5TH DISTRICT OF NEW JERSEY

STRONG BILL URGED
On Energy Crisis. Common Cause has alerted its telephone chain throughout New Jersey to assure Congress that energy is not "an invisible crisis," as characterized by Al Ullman, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. Most of the approximately 1000 Common Cause members in the Princeton area have been called and asked to communicate their views to Representative Millicent Fenwick.

with a low miles per gallon rating. "We feel the import quota on foreign oil is especially important. If quotas are tied to sealed bids from foreign oil producers (a proposal reported in the MIT Technology Review, to name one source), we can reduce our dependence on foreign oil and, at the same time, reduce its price... We hope you will continue to support the aims of the more important lobby, the citizens."

Today, I would like to discuss energy.

The subject of energy is a baffling one. Every intelligent citizen knows that the reserves of fossil fuels—coal, petroleum and gas—are limited and dwindling and getting more and more expensive. But every intelligent citizen knows, too, that prices of gasoline have fallen on every big main road and that some gas stations will give you a kewpie doll or a free car wash if you buy 10 gallons instead of five.

It's a curious situation and I've tried to study it. The only answer to this apparent glut and basic shortage is said to be one of timing—a very small increase in temporary supply floods the storage tanks and promotes sales. To deal with the longer term problems, two bills are coming up in the House.

One is called the Energy Conservation Bill, and should come up for a vote soon, and the other, as yet unnamed, will de-regulate natural gas. The Energy Conservation Bill will impose a progressive tax on gasoline consumption, but it does not—unfortunately—contain the Windfall Profits Tax proposed by President Ford.

The proposed bill to de-regulate gas in interstate commerce is particularly interesting to New Jersey because we have so many industries and homes dependent on gas. It has been estimated that a 10 percent cut in gas deliveries to our State could, in a hard winter cause from 135,000 to 500,000 job layoffs.

The tragedy for New Jersey is that 90 percent of all new gas discoveries are sold in the States where gas is found, because in these lucky states the price is not regulated and producers obviously prefer to sell gas there. It is getting harder and harder to get gas into interstate pipelines and something must be done.

The idea of de-regulating gas was, at first glance, as unappetizing a thought as the plan to put a big tax on imported oil. I was afraid of the impact on homeowners and manufacturers alike and I voted against the oil tax last winter. But the gas story is different. In 1975, in New Jersey, the price of gas at the wellhead is only 20 percent of the total cost for the homeowner.

In New York City, where taxes and operating costs are so high, the price of gas is the same but it's only 10 percent of the total. The pipeline companies and the utilities account for the rest. To operate a pipeline at full capacity costs about the same as it does when supplies are low—so that part wouldn't change; and when supplies are low and utilities have to buy more expensive fuels to fill their contracts, then costs can even go up.

It's a very interesting subject and I'll have to do some more work on it before I make up my mind. But we know we cannot continue to buy over four million barrels of oil a day from the OPEC countries, risking an embargo like that in 1974 and a continual dollar drain.

A NEW SOURCE. An encouraging and most intriguing development is coming soon to our State—the use of garbage as a source of electrical energy. One of our public utilities is planning a new generating plant which will at one fell swoop take care of 2,000 tons of garbage a day and generate as much power as an oil-fired station that would consume a million and a half barrels of oil a year. Eventually, the plant could take 4,000 tons of garbage a day and recover 230 tons of metal every day for recycling.

This is certainly a most hopeful portent for the future and it's not a radical or unproven plan. There are 87 similar plants already in operation in Canada, Europe and Japan and there is one in a Boston suburb, nearly completed. It handles the garbage from 16 nearby communities and the cost of the electricity it produces is competitive with other fuels.

In a densely populated state like New Jersey where landfill is disappearing, and in any case environmentally undesirable, this would be a godsend. There is no emission of sulphur dioxide, always a problem with oil and coal. So far, this is a project only as far as New Jersey is concerned and there will be environmental and other approvals needed, but there is something enormously encouraging about the idea of using garbage, which is difficult and expensive to get rid of, to produce something we need and can no longer get as easily and cheaply as we used to.

Now, if we could only make solar and wind-produced energy as efficiently, we could relax on the energy crisis and protect our environment at the same time. Perhaps we could persuade some city fathers to take a good hard look at a pilot plant which has been operating in Princeton, using solar energy to process part of Princeton's sewage, and to produce fertilizer and distilled water. And, just the other day, I read about the death of a man nearly 100 years old; 55 years ago he apparently took out a patent for a solar energy process. Cheap oil made the necessary technological development uncompetitive. Perhaps now all these alternate sources are ideas whose time has come.

ROBBERY SUSPECT: This is a police composite of the suspect wanted for the armed robbery May 10 of Marsh's Pharmacy, 30 Nassau Street. He fled on foot after taking $40, 288 Pantopon tablets and seven grams of Dilaudid from a clerk. His description: white, S-10 to 6-0, 190 to 200 pounds, 35 to 40 years old, dark hair, side burns and moustache. He was wearing a blue shirt, dark pants, black platform shoes and a white plastic rain hat.

A more convenient telephone service comes to customers whose numbers begin with 921 or 924.

It's a new electronic development that lets you dial all your Long Distance calls—including person to person, collect and credit card calls—and speeds them on their way.

And it begins Monday for customers whose numbers start with 921 or 924.

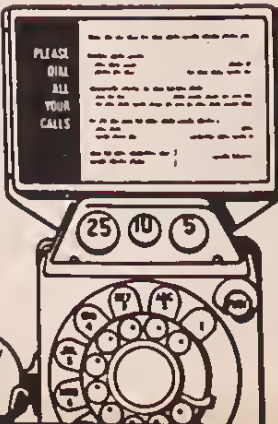

From these areas, here's all you do to dial a Long Distance call from your home or office:

1. Dial "0" (Operator) followed immediately by the Area Code where required and then the number.
2. When the Operator comes on the line, he or she will ask you for the information needed to assist you. While the Operator is doing this, new electronic equipment will be completing your call.

There is no change in the way you dial station calls. And, of course, station calls you dial yourself are usually the most economical way to call. So be sure to dial calls yourself when you don't need the help of an Operator.

If you have any questions, just call your Telephone Business Office.

A Villain Behind the Scenes.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Will The Real Summer Intime Please Stand Up?

Last week, a mysterious event occurred in Princeton concerning the hitherto tranquil establishment of Summer Intime. While its student organizers were busily working away deep in the recesses of Murray Theatre, trying desperately to finalize the plans for its 1975 summer season, some unknown hand was putting the finishing touches on a clever plan of sabotage.

On Wednesday afternoon a curious fact was brought to my attention. In spite of the fact that neither I nor anyone else connected with the Summer Intime VIII organization had submitted information intended for publication that week, a prominent article concerning SI was printed in the Arts Selection of both major Princeton newspapers. Every item of information contained in that article was completely false.

None of the plays mentioned in the article were ever under consideration for the summer season, nor did the names listed correspond in any way with the actual company members that I myself had selected. Needless to say, I was somewhat aghast at the "mistake."

The editors of both newspapers hastened to inform me that the fault did not lie with them. Someone had submitted a press release to their offices which seemed in every respect official; it was written on stationery bearing the letterhead of Summer Intime, and had my name typed on the bottom. Having received no contradictory information from me, the newspapers went ahead and printed the phony story.

What is the Summer Intime fraud all about? It might just be a joke, perpetrated by someone with a rather strange sense of humor. Or it might be more serious - a deliberate act of malice on the part of a person who feels for some reason that he has a personal axe to grind. In any case, the incident is not to be taken lightly.

The article was a source of embarrassment not only for me, but for former SI director Dan Berkowitz, for all the others mentioned, and for the two Princeton newspapers. Moreover, it throws the credibility of the theatre into a dubious light at a crucial time in its development. I will be dealing with more than one irate customer, I am sure, complaining about ticket prices that are different from those "officially" announced in the press release. If these are the results desired by the unknown culprit, I congratulate him on his cunning, and offer my sympathies on the immaturity of his little mind.

Mitchell Ivers and I have put together what we believe to be an excellent program of summer entertainment combining old and new talents in a way that will benefit the student company members as well as our public. This is what the real Summer Intime is all about - it is an organization dedicated to presenting quality theatre, and designed to help students learn about theatre through actual experience. We are confident that we can do both, with the support of the Princeton community.

No amount of petty sabotage can change that commitment.

KIMBERLY MYERS
General Manager
Summer Intime

Cold Comfort Offered.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I have never written to newspapers before, but I feel I must respond to the articles about Summer Intime in this week's town papers, which featured my name as well as the names of several friends of mine.

To my knowledge, there is not one word of truth in the articles: I am not involved with Summer Intime 1975 (which this year is an undergraduate theatre managed by Kimherly Myers and Mitchell Ivers), and, as far as I know, most of the other people mentioned also have other summer plans. The newspapers have obviously been the victims of a massive hoax, and the perpetrator(s) deserve a prize.

How about a year in the wide-open spaces of the Yukon? How about two?

DANIEL F. BERKOWITZ

Mr. Sypek, Where Were You?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In just a few days, a crucial primary will take place. Voters who are trying to assess the candidates for Mercer County Executive must make their decisions very soon.

In the Princeton area, joint appearances by all the candidates have been scheduled at the high school and at the offices of the National Organization for Women. Minutes before the high school meeting, Arthur Sypek, candidate for the Democratic nomination, telephoned his regrets.

For the N.O.W. session, Sypek did not appear and did not bother to cancel or apologize. Members of both audiences rightly took offense at his peculiar behavior.

I would suggest that young people and feminists are known to ask particularly hot questions of candidates. All the other candidates respected their commitment to appear and had to field some real hot potatoes. But that's what campaigning is supposed to be about; we get a crack at finding out who the rascals are before they get power and have to be pried out of office.

Why is Sypek ducking the voters? What would he have to conceal from a free give-and-take with the people he wishes to serve? If he won't respond to us now when he's seeking our support, how might he respond to us if he did achieve the power of the office he wants us to give him?

If Mr. Sypek's skin is too thin for the heat of a fair campaign, I suggest that he stop trying to get into the kitchen. Arthur Sypek, come out, come out, wherever you are.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Truly a place of Brotherly Love and Compassion—Wills Eye Hospital of Philadelphia. How lucky we are to have such a marvelous institution only a one-hour drive from Princeton and established in 1832. Now 50,000 men, women and children come to Wills each year, a number from this area.

My thanks to the Princeton Ophthalmology Associates for working so diligently to get me in so quickly. They saw me at 3:15 and by 6:30 my tests were started at Wills.

The retina service team for me of about six doctors and as many nurses, orderlies and attendants were well coordinated for a job well done which was started about 10:30 a.m. the next day.

I hope you don't need the services of Wills Eye, but remember it is close by ready to assist if necessary. It may be sooner than you think.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Having seen a number of letters to the editor from a handful of Dr. McPherson's supporters, it seems time for us to look at the record that he has made and review the concerns of the multitude of parents who elected the present School Board in the hope of correcting the situation.

At the time, a few years ago, when the Regional School system was created by merging Borough and Township, two good systems were put together. At the time they were both highly regarded academically, discipline was pretty good, and the budget represented roughly one third of our local taxes. Report cards told you where your child stood and the Iowa tests gave an indication of how both the student and the school ranked nationally.

In the last six years under Dr. McPherson's administration the situation has changed dramatically. Discipline is practically nonexistent, we are back to kindergarten style report cards, there is no established curriculum for work to be covered in any given school year, the Iowa tests were discontinued when they began to show the academic weakening of our schools, and the budget is well over 50 percent of a much larger tax burden.

Having had at least one of my four children in the schools

Opening festivities will be held from 10 to 2 and continue throughout the month of June.

During the month-long celebration, Nassau Savings will give away 40 grand prizes, featuring 20 RCA 12-inch television sets and 20 savings accounts worth $20 each. Drawings for the prizes will be held each weekday through June 27 and winners will be announced Mondays through Fridays over radio station WHWH at 6:50 p.m.

A coupon which may be used to enter the drawing appears on page 5B of this issue.

David Neal, branch manager, said that, "We believe that Montgomery residents will benefit from our varied services. We also feel that they'll find our location convenient for one-stop savings and shopping. We look forward to making many friends in Montgomery and hope they'll enjoy the prizes, gifts and refreshments as they meet our Montgomery staff."

Another Montgomery resident, in addition to Mr. Neal, is Charlotte Cavanaugh, assistant secretary, who will also be in the new Montgomery branch office. Miss Cavanaugh has been involved in the planning of both the office and the opening since the inception of the project.

According to Mr. Foster, the nine months ended March 31 new branch of Nassau Savings have been reported by Oskar

For Mathematica. Record revenues and earnings for the nine months ended March 31 new branch of Nassau Savings have been reported by Oskar Morganstern, chairman of the board of Mathematica, Inc., and Tibor Fabian, president. Operating revenues increased 30 percent to $10,755,600 from $8,274,800 for the same period a year ago.

Net income for the nine months was $414,700 compared to $382,400 a year ago, and net income per share was 59 cents compared with 54 cents. The favorable nine-month results were attributed to a strong backlog, as well as a favorable mix of services.

Revenues for the last quarter of the year are expected to grow further, although fourth quarter earnings are expected to be lower than those in the comparable 1974 period because of a different mix of services and considerable investment in the further development and marketing of RAMIS proprietary software.

PDS LACROSSE VICTOR

Ends Best Season Ever. An 8-6, come-from-behind victory over Edison Saturday at the Fairleigh Dickinson field brought the Princeton Day School lacrosse team the Division B state championship and the best won-lost season in the school's history.

The Panthers were awarded a trophy as the Division B champion, another for winning first place in their league and a third to coach Chuck Simpson, who was named coach of the year. "We brought home a lot of hardware," said Simpson.

PDS had advanced to the state championship final with a 13-4 victory last Wednesday over Montville High School. Its final 12-3 record was its best ever.

Five PDS players were named to the B Division All-State 1st Team: Dich Gordon and Dave O'Conner, attack; Bill Erdman, the team's leading scorer, and freshman Rob Olsson, the second leading scorer, midfield; and Jay Trubee, defense. Steve Judge, Chuck Segal and goalie Rick Olsson, received honorable mention.

In the championship game against Edison, where the heat was 95 degrees on the field, the momentum switched back and forth, first to PDS, then Edison and back to the Panthers.

Tommy Moore scored the first goal in the game and Rob Olsson added two more to give PDS a 3-1 first period margin. Edison came on when it was able to take advantage of a string of PDS penalties and exploit a new man-down formation that Simpson had inserted for the championship game, one that the team hadn't had time to master. Edison scored four straight to go ahead 5-4.

"It Looked Bleak." It also dominated play throughout the third period which ended with Edison up, 6-4. "We were tired and hot. It looked bleak, but it never entered my head that we would lose," recalled Simpson. "Just what could I do to get us untracked?"

Because both first lines were about equal, Simpson felt Olsson would be the difference in the second. "It turned out that he was," he said. "I told them to stop thinking about the heat. There was only ten minutes to go and we either do or we don't. I told them to go out and play the hardest you can."

In that heat it was a game of attrition, who would last the longest, said Simpson, and it was Edison that ran out of gas. A minute and a half into the period Gordon scored. Twenty-five seconds later Judge tied it at 6-6. "We were moving and they were not; we had the momentum," said Simpson. Two minutes later a nice feed by Jack Bonini to Gordon and PDS had the lead again. Another feed from Bonini to Erdman was the clincher.

A key to the game, according to Simpson, was the Panthers ability to contain Bill Gourley, Edison's all-state goalie. Gourley, reported Simpson, likes to come out of the cage a lot and make single clears. Early in the game he was hit solidly by Erdman. "After that, he didn't want to come out so often," said Simpson.

Olsson was named the game's most valuable player. He received a one-week scholarship to a lacrosse camp this summer at Fairleigh-Dickson.

Brother Rick Olsson had 15 saves in the net for PDS; Gourley had 10. "To make as many mistakes as we did in the second and third periods and still come back and win, I think proves we were clearly the better team," is the way Simpson summed up the Edison win.

Olsson Has 4 Goals. Rob Olsson led the Panthers' domination of Montville, scoring four times and prompting the Fairleigh Dickinson coach to ask Simpson, "How do you get a ninth grader to play that well?"

O'Conner, Erdmann and Judge each scored twice, while Gordon, Tim Brush and Jeb Burns added single goals. Bonini had three assists.

News Of The CHURCHES

TO MARK 125TH YEAR

Of St. Paul's Parish. The observance of the 125th anniversary of the founding of St. Paul's Parish will take place June 15 at a parish picnic which is expected to attract more than 3,000 parishioners and friends of the parish, on the grounds of St. Joseph's Seminary across Lake Carnegie. The parish now numbering some 2,100 families, had its beginnings in 1843 when 60 Catholics were recorded in the area. It was established formally in 1850.

The people of St. Paul's and its mission, St. James, Rocky Hill, will join on June 15 at 11 a.m. for Mass offered by the pastor, Msgr. John J. Endebrack, on the seminary grounds. After the Mass, there will be a picnic with games, music and refreshments until 6.

Lester Luck and Robert Hendry, co-chairmen, announced tickets will be available after weekend Masses or at Hinkson's. Maximum charge will be $12.50 per family. Transportation will be available as necessary for senior citizens.

TWO TO BE ORDAINED

In Christ Congregation. Gail M. Deason and Craig W. Hendrix will be ordained in Christ Congregation on Monday at 8:15 p.m. by the New Jersey Association of the United Church of Christ. Participating in the service will be Professors Freda A. Gardner and Robert O. Stuart from Princeton Theological Seminary as well as Richard Benson, Rev. Mary S. Greene, Rev. Donald R. Purkey, Rev. John G. Wightman and the Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer.

Ms. Deason and Hendrix will be married in July and will become co-pastors of the Federated United Church of Christ in Timberville, Virginia.

COUPLE LEAD SERVICE

At Lutheran Church. Dr. Herbert Anderson and his wife, Phyllis, will conduct the service at the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Princeton Junction, Sunday at 11. Mrs. Anderson, a second year theological student at Princeton Theological Seminary will preach the sermon, and her husband, an associate professor of pastoral theology for the past six years at the Seminary, will conduct the remainder of the service.

An active layman and member of the Church Council, Mrs. Anderson received her degree from Sacramento State College and will begin her senior year in September in theology at Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa, where her husband will become an associate professor.

CHURCH YOUTH BUSY

In Summer Programs. One facet of the summer program of the Senior High Fellowship of Nassau Presbyterian Church is to look at the professional lives of church and community members willing to host a group of senior highs in office, shop, laboratory or studio for an hour of discussion of careers.

The senior highs want to know what the profession involves, how an individual gets started and how the Christian faith applies. Call Leslie Kolbjornsen, 452-8461, if interested in hosting a group between June 22 and August 30.

Meanwhile, the Junior High Fellowship, age 12 and 13, will undertake a summer service project entitled, "Scub for Grub," the "grub" being a cold drink and perhaps a contribution for the Church's Hunger Fund. They will do lawn work, porch painting, garage, basement or attic cleaning, window washing or other odd jobs. They will work for about 3 hours, bring a sack lunch and need some supervision.

They may be called via Leslie Kolbjornsen, 452-8461. The program runs June 22-August 30.

continuously from 1953 to the present, these are personal observations.

Any industrial board of directors confronted by a downturn like that would have replaced the company president and his team several years ago. In the outside world, administrators are judged by their results. However, in academic circles, we find the School Board trying in vain, for the third year in succession, to carry out a mandate from the voters to correct the situation.

If it were not for the law granting tenure to school personnel, this could have been accomplished long ago. The vast majority of us who work for a living are required to produce in order to hold our jobs and it seems to me that a law which prevents the firing of non-producers is pretty hard to defend. Perhaps some of you will write your legislators about this.

Regardless of the outcome of the current struggles, it is obvious that no significant improvement in the quality of our schools can be expected until Dr. McPherson has departed.

In the men's early doubles league, the team of Hilton Anderson, Fritz Blaicher and Bernt Midland is in front with nine points, followed with eight points by Gordon Hansen, Reeves Black and Tom Boyer. The men's late doubles league has two teams tied for first with nine points each: Joe Campion, Jay Cassen and Jim Bishop, and Bob Bell, Jim Ruch and Harry Wyckoff.

HOCKEY CAPTAIN NAMED

Fisher Elected. Duncan Fisher, a junior from Regina, Sask., has been elected captain of the 1975-76 Princeton University hockey team. Fisher was the 'Tigers' second leading scorer this season with nine goals and 18 assists for 27 points. The junior right wing has scored 15 goals and 24 assists during his first two seasons with the Tigers.

During his freshman season at Princeton, he was the second leading scorer and co-recipient of the Hobart A.H. Baker Trophy awarded annually "to a member of the freshman hockey team for sportsmanship, play and influence and outstanding contribution in freshman hockey."

Master bedroom and bath, library, three other bedrooms and two baths upstairs. Fine woodwork, many working fireplaces, handsome floors. Pharmacy Footnotes
by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm
Fats are fuel foods which burn slowly in the body. We need much less fat in temperate zones than we realize. Fat is the slowest food to digest and to be assimilated. All excess beyond what we need is stored up as weight in the body. Fats include butter, margarine, whipped butter, light and heavy cream and soured cream, mayonnaise, French dressing and cooked salad dressings made with a high percentage of oil. And of course, all meats contain an appreciable amount of fat. And don't forget ice cream, mousses, Bavarian creams, pies, parfaits -- feel hungry? You will be wise if you do not eat too much of these, for the sake of your health.

Nothing to Sell—Just Nostalgia and Pure Fun Offered in Dratfield-Maxwell Cabaret of Songs

"It's pure entertainment: all nostalgia and fun---no MESSAGES!"
Lee Dratfield's pointed, gamine face under its tangle of incredible red hair, makes a pointed, gamine grin.
The Princeton folk-singer is talking about "Lee Dratfield Celebrates Great Songs, Great Singers, Great Composers," the cabaret-style show she'll do next weekend with Sandy Maxwell, the Princeton jazz pianist.

Dates are Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday at 7:30 at the Artists Showcase Theatre, 1150 Indiana Avenue, Trenton.
The cabaret of songs are from Kurt Weill, Cole Porter, Chevalier, Edith Piaf and, of course, Jacques Brel—all the Great Composers Lee likes and does best.

Play It Again, Sam. For both performers, this show is a kind of reprise.
"I started out in pop and got into folk-music by a fluke, so this is a return for me," she says.
"Theatre music has always interested me, and I'm glad to get back--it's a shift from jazz," he says.

Lee is Brooklyn, a child singer on the Horn and Hardart Children's Hour, USO singer, a featured vocalist at the old Astor Hotel, fluent in the Yiddish learned from grandfather.
Sandy is Princeton, the Princeton Country Day School that was, University (class of '39), song-writer for Triangle Club, conductor and president of Triangle, piano in a campus "big band."

Act Breaks Up. Lee did a cabaret-style Jacques Brel show two years ago for the Unitarian Church, and a Kurt Weill show last year. Both were tremendously successful. But Russ Miceli, the young singer Lee worked with in both shows, moved away from town.
"People said why not do one on my own, but I hesitated..."
Dratfield and Maxwell had heard of one another, the way people do in a small town, and last winter they happened to meet.
"We agreed instantaneously," Lee recalls, "He played and I sang and it was immediate collaboration."

Work and Play. Sandy has been at the keyboard all his life, even--or perhaps especially--during the three decades he put in on Madison Avenue, working as creative director for such agencies as Young and Rubicam. He wrote copy and he wrote the tunes for jingles, and moved around the TV and radio world. About three years ago, he left New York and has been free-lancing in Princeton ever since.
Lee, as she says, got into folk music by chance. One Sunday afternoon about ten years ago, she sat on the floor of the old Borough Hall and entertained the young Princeton Junior Museum says. With her former audience with a Jewish husband, who was in the film

"JENNY MADE HER MIND UP. . . ." Kurt Weill and Chevalier, Piaf and Brel will all be on the program the weekend of June 6-7 when Lee Dratfield sings her "Great Songs by Great Composers" program. Sandy Maxwell will be musical director and piano.

lullaby. "Rhozinkes Mit Mandlen," (Raisins with Nuts").
Once into folk music, she decided to learn French, and scarcely knowing a "oui" from a "non," she began lessons with Mrs. Alice Archer of Princeton.
"I became very proficient," she shrugs. "As a singer, I have a good ear..."

How to Keep Busy. Over the years the Maxwells have lived in Princeton, Sandy has become famous on jazz piano, and at the moment, he's in three groups. Every week-end, he plays with Chuck Slate's traditional Dixieland band at Zephaniah Drake's Brick Hotel in Chester. Then, he is in the Monday Blues, a rehearsal band--"you might call it a workshop band"--which recently played in a concert for the Lawrenceville Arts Council.

And finally---or maybe, first---he plays with Arnie Roth (on tenor sax); Dick Klensch (on drums) and Frank Clark (bass) at whatever wedding, Bar Mitzvah or private party you happen to have in mind. He also has about a dozen students, ranging upward from an eight-year-old.

"I grew up with Cole Porter, Rodgers and Hart, and all those," he says, "and when kids call up about a wedding I say, 'Look, are you SURE we're what you want?' and they always say 'Yes.' They've seen Astaire and Rogers on TV, and they hear records their parents play. It's great there is still such interest in the tremendous talents of those years."

After becoming proficient in French, "I was seized!" Lee Dratfield says. With her former audience with a Jewish husband, who was in the film

SUBSCRIBED YET?

McCarters Sets Record. "Shattering all previous records," in the words of the public relations department, McCarter Theatre has sold more than 6,400 subscriptions to next season's drama series.

By May 15, 58 percent of last year's subscribers had signed up again (they got a special 25 percent discount), and producing director Michael Kahn believes McCarters' goal of 10,000 subscribers will be met before the end of August.

"The response from both current and new subscribers is absolutely without precedent for McCarters," he said.

All subscriptions will be processed in order of receipt. Information may be obtained from Barbara Steele, McCarters Theatre, Box 526, Princeton, N.J., or by calling the Subscriber Services department at 921-8370. The season opens October 9.

HUMORIST COMING

Reunion Weekend. The humorist Jean Shepherd will make his annual appearance on the Princeton University campus on Friday, June 6, at 9 p.m. Termed a modern-day Mark Twain by his sponsors, radio station WPRB-FM, Jean Shepherd is a raconteur and a radio personality with a nightly show on WOR.

He has also written books, film scripts and plays and acted in Broadway and off-Broadway productions. At one time he was a regular columnist for the Village Voice and The Realist. His short stories have won four Playboy humor-satire awards, making him the only writer to win this award more than once. Shepherd is currently working on a movie version of his first novel, "In God We Trust; All Others Pay Cash."

Tickets may be purchased at the cashier's cage of the University store, with remaining seats on sale at the door the night of the concert.

DANCE....

In Summer Classes. A six-week summer session of classes in ballet, modern dance and jazz will be offered by the Princeton Ballet Society starting Monday, June 9. Registration may be made at the Society's studios, 262 Alexander Street.

Larry Clark will teach modern dance, Judith Leviton and David Anderson, ballet and Merril Lynn Kalis and Terry Nicholson, jazz dance. A member of the Viola Farber Dance Company, Mr. Clark has toured Europe and has taught dance in New York and Ohio.

Judith Leviton, ballet mistress of the Princeton Regional Ballet Company, has performed with the Metropolitan Opera Ballet, the New York City Opera and the American Ballet Theatre. Mr. Anderson, who often dances with the Regional company, will appear this summer with the Theatre Dance Collection in New York and at Jacob's Pillow.

Ms. Katis has choreographed for night clubs, stock companies, Broadway and off-Broadway productions. She began her career with the Allegro Ballet Company, Chicago. Mr. Nicholson has toured widely in the national companies of many musicals, and has often been guest artist with Regional company.

OPEN HOUSE....

For Creative Theatre. An open house, combined with registration for the summer program, will be held by Creative Theatre Unlimited this Thursday at Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street, from 6-8 p.m.

Pat Cline, managing director; Barbara Padgett, associate director and Susan Brainerd, instructor, will be present to answer questions about the summer classes. There will be a photography exhibit of Creative Theatre classes and workshops. Refreshments will be served.

Classes in creative drama, movement, improvisation and art will be offered for grades 1-5. Students in the grade 6-9 category may take scene study, playwriting and stagecraft, leading to a production.

The first session will extend from June 1-26, the second from July 1-31.

The adult play-production workshop will provide opportunity for theatre games, improvisation, characterization and scene study. Classes will meet Monday and Wednesday mornings from 9:30-1:30 starting June 23. Twelve sessions will be held.

present its 26th annual dance recital on Saturday, June 7, at the Princeton Day School Theatre. Curtain is at 8:15 p.m.

Children from many parts of central New Jersey will participate in both the tap and ballet segments. Featured in the leading role of the Act II ballet will be Debbie Pehta, who will be making a farewell appearance as she will enter college in the fall. Debbie has studied with Mrs. Kehoe since she was 6 as a tap and jazz dancer and has danced ballet the Princeton High School musicals and gym presentations. She will co-star with Lori Lehnert in a tap number, "Me and My Shadow."

MONTGOMERY

The Godfather, Part II. Francis Ford Coppola's superb continuation of the saga of the murderous Corleone family was named the best American film of 1974. It is playing in the Princeton area for the first time at the Montgomery.

Nearly as long as the first "Godfather" Part II (200 minutes) is just as good. Together they are a modern spectacular on film, prompting one critic to call them one of the three greatest motion picture epics along with "Gone With the Wind" and "Birth of a Nation."

Part II is more sweeping, covering some 60 years, and less graphic in its slayings, toning down the earlier romanticism and delving more into the nature of power and corruption.

Beginning its chronicle in the late 50s with Michael Corleone (Al Pacino again superbly taut and low key) at the height of his inherited powers and comfortably installed in Las Vegas, the film takes on epic proportions, wending its way toward the 60s and Senate Committee hearings while periodically flashing back to the early 1900s and the Sicilian roots of the young Vito Corleone, played masterfully by Robert DeNiro.

There are several outstanding performances, especially that of Lee Strasberg as an aging gangster, reportedly patterned closely on Meyer Lansky; Robert Duvall, who returns as the family Consigliere; playwright Michael F. Gazzo, who portrays an old family lieutenant who almost rats to the FBI; and John Cazale, as Pacino's pathetic older brother who simply-mindedly betrays him and is rubbed out.

Part II is a harsh comment on the corruption of power and a tour de force for Coppola. The final scene with Pacino, alone, ruminating on his loveless power is devastating.

PRINCE

Funny Lady is now in its 11th week at the Prince so it must have something. What it has are two of Hollywood's current superstars, Barbara Streisand and James Caan, and some fine singing by Streisand.

Caan is exceptional as the famed showman Billy Rose while Streisand is just as effective in her peerless characterization of Fanny Brice. The film traces Fanny's romantic and professional relationship with Rose. A must for Streisand fans.

Breakout stars Mr. Macho himself, Charles Bronson, who sprouts wings as a barnstorming helicopter pilot.

Bronson engineers the daring escape of an American millionaire (Robert Duvall) who is imprisoned for life in a Mexican penitentiary. Reportedly based on a real life incident.

PLAYHOUSE

The Passenger. Starring Jack Nicholson as an alienated journalist who takes the identity of a dead stranger and steps into a tragic mystery, "The Passenger" is Michelangelo Antonioni's most accessible film since "Blow Up." Still, it is a bit too cold and elusive to be fully satisfying.

Nicholson is a British TV journalist who has been engaged in a futile search for a local guerilla leader in North Africa. Frustrated, he returns to his hotel room where he finds a fellow guest dead from a heart attack. He is struck with the thought of exchanging identities and he does, switching passport photos and possessions and reporting his own death.

received her MFA from Princeton last year and is continuing her studies with Shirlee Emmons in New York while embarking on a professional singing career. News of the Theatres

It is gradually revealed that the job of the dead man whose identity Nicholson has taken is fraught with danger. Even more important to Nicholson, however, is the need to escape a failed marriage and the purposelessness in his career. When he discovers his wife is searching for details of his "death," escape becomes his prime drive.

In Barcelona, Nicholson meets up with Maria Schneider (of "Last Tango"), who urges him to carry on the plans of the man whose identity he has taken. The situation is intriguing, combining Hitchcock with a dose of Kafka, but Antonioni chooses to concentrate less on drama than on alienation. Beyond the intellectual exercise of puzzling out the ambiguities and loose ends there is little to spark the emotions.

Visually, the film is another story. Antonioni's technique and brilliant eye for composition, texture and color are unsurpassed. He achieves unbelievable effects with his camera with grace and ease.

Nicholson seems incapable of a poor performance. Miss Schneider plays the girl as a tried sounding board, eliciting information without a drop of feeling.

GARDEN

Young Frankenstein. After destroying the Hollywood western in "Blazing Saddles", Mel Brooks this time does hilarious battle against the cliches of the monster melodramas of the 1930s. Filmed in black and white to further evoke the atmosphere of the bygone genre, "Young Frankenstein" is without a doubt Brooks' finest, most cohesive film to date.

To his credit, Brooks is content to avoid slipping in smutty, offensive sight-gags and one-liners and sticks with the intrinsic humor of the situation. The story by Brooks and Gene Wilder uses Mary Shelley's novel and earlier Universal horror epics as a freeform structure on which to drape their own gaily strewn madnnesses.

Peter Boyle plays the monster in brilliant style as a cross between a criminal stud and overgrown infant. Others in a fine cast are Cloris Leachman as the ominous Frau Blucher; Wilder as the original doctor's grandson; Madeline Kahn, an absurdly prim fiancée whose operatic delight at the monster's sexual prowess is heartfelt, piercing and utterly hilarious;

Teri Garr, a nubile blonde lab assistant; and Gene Hackman in a surprise cameo role.

Loaded with sight gags and some fine slapstick, the film's prime moments are its brilliant, on-target parodies of actual scenes in the original Frankenstein outings. A high point occurs when Wilder, convinced that all the monster needs is a little self-confidence, bills the two of them into a top hat and soft-shoe act. Their "Puttin' On the Ritz" ends in panic after the Academy of Sciences boos the monster off the stage. Take the kids, too. It's PG rated.

IT'S NEW To Us

NEW AT NASSAU INTERIORS: This contrast border and outline quilting on this handsome Greeff fabric make it easy to understand Nassau Interiors' excitement over this new line of upholstered furniture.

NEW FURNITURE LINE
At Nassau Interiors. Generally this is not the time of year for ordering large stocks of upholstered furniture, but recently Leonard LaPlaca of Nassau Interiors discovered a line so outstanding that he decided to break with tradition and feature it.

The furniture itself, made by Vanguard, has eight-way hand-tied springs, a sign of quality construction. However, the real excitement has been caused by the handsome Greeff fabrics, many of which have been coordinated to produce what Nassau Interiors calls "mistake-proof decorating."

Although the pieces must be custom ordered, the samples occupying most of Nassau Interiors' second floor give an accurate indication of the styles, fabrics, detail and quality available. For instance, a high-back low-arm traditional sofa with loose pillows has been upholstered in a forest green chintz covered with a green, yellow and white floral print. With this are two club chairs, one covered in a cut green (again forest) and the other in a yellow and orange plaid.

Many of the fabrics are unusual in both design and color combinations. We thought the copy of an Egyptian museum fabric with its blue, rust and gold stylized flowers and columns was most outstanding. It has been used on a matching sofa and loveseat, both of which have lots of extra pillows -- something we noticed on many of these pieces.

The panel matching on all the sofas is excellent. There is a fully curved round-back sofa upholstered in an overscaled damask print in camel and blue. This is a border print, which follows the sides of the cushion, down the front, onto the kick-pleat skirt in a perfect line. Also, notice the matching in the loveseat pictured above.

All this furniture comes with arm covers, and in many of the fabrics there is the option of a contrast border which creates a custom look. For instance, a sofa in a handsome green, yellow and off-white garden print has a border of flowers just below the cushions and a green and white bamboo design on the kick-pleat skirt.

For a more contemporary look there is a roll-arm tuxedo sofa in a chenille-type fabric of a multi-colored stripe. Again, there are extra pillows and with it a matching high-back chair, an ottoman, and a deep navy velvet tub chair. This particular group also shows the range of prices, $165 to $924.

Nassau Interiors, at 162 Nassau Street, is open Monday through Friday from 9 to 5:30 and from 9 to 5 on Saturdays.

SIMPSON PHOTOGRAPHY
A Hobby Turned to Business. "When you see that print come up at you in the developing bath, you're hooked. It happens to everyone who first tries." At least it happened to John W. H. Simpson, who four years after taking on photography as a hobby has now turned it into a full-time occupation.

Starting with a basic 35mm camera and a simple enlarger, because "the best negative in the world is worthless unless it's printed well," Mr. Simpson quickly mastered his hobby. Then, last July, he decided to leave his employer of several years, Houghton Mifflin, and go into business for himself.

Portrait photography is his "stock in trade", and so he chose Owen's Barn in Kingston for his studio because the afternoon light is excellent. Mr. Simpson prefers natural light, whether indoors or out, because it is more flattering to the subject. The shadows are less harsh and generally the more relaxed and informal the setting, the better the result.

However, he does have studio equipment and uses these techniques when appropriate. He also photographs on a general freelance basis, recording meetings, family reunions or any large gathering.

Many Campus Shots. As for any photographer, there are two aspects of his work -- the paid photographs for clients and the "art" side where he is free to photograph what he wishes. A graduate of Princeton University's class of '66, he feels the campus here is one of the most beautiful in the world and he has photographed it extensively.

Starting next week, from June 4 to 13, 25 of these Princeton scenes will be displayed at Gallery 100 as a special reunion show. "Believe it or not," Mr. Simpson said, "with a few miscellaneous exceptions at the galleries, there is no source of University photographs or etchings available in town." Copies of these pictures can be purchased and would be a nice gift for a recent or old grad.

For an individual portrait sitting (in the studio or outdoors) that includes anywhere from 40 to 50 shots, the cost is $37.50 and includes one 8 x 10 print. Each additional negative is $12.50.

However, if several children or a whole family is being photographed, Mr. Simpson particularly recommends a portfolio. This includes any number of pictures, and is a great way to record many moods or a certain period in your life. The pictures can be framed or placed in a special album. The cost is $75 for four pictures or $135 for 10, with proportionate prices for other numbers.

The free lance work is priced at $25 an hour and each print is then $2.50. Because this is not a standard 9 to 5 job as Mr. Simpson is often out photographing or in his darkroom developing, he can be called at either his home (924-8487) or office (924-7341).

WIDE VARIETY

In a Small Store. In the attractive new building at the corner of Hulfish and Witherspoon streets is a newly opened convenience store, Princetonian Sweet Shoppe. This is familiar territory to owner Jairam Herku, who many people will undoubtedly recognize from his days at The King's Court Restaurant.

Now a part-owner of a Trenton restaurant, Scarlet Ibis, he decided on this new venture because he feels the center of Princeton needs a store with extra hours and all the small foods you always seem to unexpectedly require.

Just to give some idea of the wide range in this store, we saw fresh fruits, soft drinks, cold cuts, bakery breads and cakes, coffee, cigarettes, yogurt and milk.

Mr. Herku can make sandwiches for lunch, order special birthday or wedding cakes, and arrange hors d'oeuvres for your next party. He has oyster or crab cocktails and has ordered a full line of imported cheese from most any country you can name.

We particularly noticed the extras not found everywhere such as boxes of Schrafft's chocolates, Charlie's potatoes chips in foil bags (his cookies are here too), and sno cones and popcorn to pick up for a snack.

A specialty here are the various desserts. From jars of mouth watering toppings, Mr. Herku can produce Brandy Peach, Pear Belehheim or hot butterscotch sundaes, 75 cents each. And if you're really hungry, there is a hanana boat.

Located at 46 Witherspoon Street, Princetonian Sweet Shoppe is open Monday through Thursday from 8:30 to 8, Friday and Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to midnight and Sunday from 9 to 8, and there is delivery service.

THE ROYAL ACADEMY REVISITED at the Princeton Art Museum. It is possible to recreate 19th century style and taste through the display of Victorian Paintings from the Forbes Magazine Collection. This painting, entitled, "Guess Again", was done by Sophie Anderson (1823 - c. 1898).

ART OF VICTORIAN ERA

At the University Museum. English art of the Victorian era involves a fairly obscure area of scholarship. Despite the early 19th century creative dynamism of Constable and Turner, art, like many visible manifestations of Victorian society, responded to the surface tenets of the population and its leaders.

During this era standards were set by the Royal Academy through its exhibitions and through society by the monetary rewards offered to painters of a certain style. The resulting art was expressive of its time and place in that it was usually determined by very rigid, often pretentious and artificial judgments.

A comprehensive examination of this art has not been possible until recently. Before Christopher Forbes assembled the present collection the great body of art of this period remained in dusty attics and private collections. It had fallen so far from popular favor as to receive no mention at all in otherwise comprehensive art histories.

Having been rescued from obscurity by Mr. Forbes, the question remains as to how to view the collection. The visual equivalent of purple prose, most of it appears to be the Victorian substitute for afternoon television. But, like a great deal of Victoriana, once spurned and now studied and sought after, it remains a record of the taste and interest of the population. If history is to be of value, it is necessary to understand standards of pleasure and culture along with war and heroes.

The extensive collection includes historical, biblical and literary subject matter along with pastoral views of lambs and children. A tribute to Britain at her moment of greatest power can be found in several works of patriotic inspiration.

The paintings are appropriately displayed on walls painted a dusty purple color once described as ashes of roses. Hung one atop the other, the display creates a proper period ambience which aids the viewer in sharing a Victorian experience while studying this unusual collection.

The museum will facilitate the viewing experience by allowing the public to borrow catalogs during the tour of the exhibition. The information contained in the catalog offers an in-depth study of both the art and the artists.

Images of the Madonna uses a single theme to span centuries, nations and media. Works from the permanent collection of the Museum include an unusual variety of material representing many eras, styles and levels of artistic expression.

Byzantine illuminations, a 13th century book, 15th century German wood polychrome, English alabaster, Rembrandt etchings and Durer woodcuts are among the many fine representations of one of the major themes used throughout the history of art. The individual beauty and dynamism of each of the works combines to create an even greater excitement through the interaction of the many different works and the range of expression possible when a common theme is explored by different people with differing frames of reference.

The exhibit is the work of Joan Casale, Matthew Laumia, Deb Petty, and Suzanne Tripp. It was executed a part of Program III, an undergraduate museum training project.

At the Gallery of Fine Art. The past and present are combined in several different ways. Early works of several gallery artists are hung

The contemporary painters in the exhibit include Gregorio Prestopino, Tom George, B.J.O. Nordfeldt, Wolf Kahn, George Green and Werner Drewes. Sculpture by Jane Teller and Dorothea Greenbaum offer exciting contrasts between realism and the examination of pure form.

At the Present Day Club. The Garden State Watercolor Society is exhibiting paintings by New Jersey Artists. The collection is predominantly traditional in both technique and subject. It includes many florals and landscapes rendered in representational fashion.

The work of many local painters is included. A watercolor study of a pond by Dagmar Tribble is notable for its fluid use of paint and creative color.

At Susuki. Contemporary primitives by Lillian Jones are the featured exhibition. Mrs. Jones has created an extensive collection including still life, biblical animal scenes and local landscape.

All the paintings are notable for their attention to detail, which is used to create interesting combinations of pattern and texture. In some of the works the artist has attempted to bring her paintings into a three-dimensional situation by extending them into the frame. Lion cubs peer over the frames in many of the animal paintings with their paws extended from the perimeter of the canvas.

The artist is at her very best in her portrayal of the local

COURSES ARE VARIED

In Art Association Schedule. A varied schedule of classes is being offered by the Princeton Art Association in its summer schedule. Located on Etl Farms on Rosedale Road, the PAA has planned for all ages and level of achievement. Allowances for vacations have been made in the schedule with many four-session classes, eight-session classes with two classes weekly and, of course, the regular once a week, eight session courses.

During June, "Drawing From the Model" will be taught by Ann Woolfolk; Dorothy Bissell's "Outdoor Watercolor Painting" will work at nearby areas of interest; and Jeann Morgan's creative "Expressive Drawing," described as a visual research class emphasizing the power to see more and draw more, will continue for another session. Photography is introduced to the PAA's schedule with "Uses of the Darkroom in Black and White Photography," taught by Renee Levine. "Sunday Morning with a Nude" continues for independent sketching or painting without formal instruction.

Several new instructors will join the Art Association faculty in June. Patricia San Soucie, well-known watercolorist, will teach "Transparent Watercolor Painting" for beginning and continuing students.

Frances Kuehn's "Painting from the Model" will present a concentrated study of the figure and head for students with some previous experience. "Introduction to Oil and Acrylic Painting" with Frederic Scudder will teach the techniques of these mediums with attention paid to each individual student's sensitivity and style.

July courses will include "Contemporary Sculpture," "Beginning Printmaking," "Oil Painting," "Landscape and Figure," "Painting in All Media," "It's Worth a Try" (a variety of media), "Beginning Steps in Oil and Acrylic Painting," and a continuation of "Uses of the Darkroom in Black and White Photography."

A complete schedule of June and July classes is available upon request with complete description of classes and biographies of instructors. The August schedule of classes will be announced at a later date.

Call the Art Association, 921-9173, for further information.

ART DISPLAYED

In Shopping Center Window. Sharon Studio students will display a semester's work in the window of Freese Camera Shop in the Princeton Shopping Center May 30-June 12. Under the direction of Naomi Sharon, the students have created plastic constructions, copper pictures, wood carvings, ceramic hangings, venetian glass, mosaic tables, metal etchings, baskets, stained windows, burlap wall hangings, ink drawings, acrylic paintings, and hanging plastic and yarn shapes.

Miss Sharon uses the progressive approach, never touching a child's work, to encourage him to develop his own imagination and skill. The projects represent the individuality of each child as he developed his own variation on the basic material. The children will display all the projects they created, and there is no choosing or judging of "best."

The children whose work is on display include Martin Kornstein, Alexis Hagadorn, Margaret Riddle, Tonya Elmore, Kathy McGee, Susan Heidere, Rebecca Skillman, Rachel Etz, Leslie McCracken, Leslie Elmore, Frances Raymond, Derek Gross, Saul Ferris, Jon Peter Baker, MacHenry Schafer, Sharon Robbins, Christopher Bauer, Andrea Rutherford, Pam Jennings, Levi Pervin, Rachel Morris, Paul Baum, Jocelyn Usiskin, Naomi May, Leslie Vielbig, Polly Guthrie, Isabel Spencer, Dawn Jahn and Rebecca Levine.

COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY

For Choir College. Conductor Robert Shaw, Music Director of the Atlanta Symphony and founder of the Robert Shaw Chorale, will deliver the Commencement Address at Westminster Choir College, Friday, at 10:30 a.m., in the Princeton University Chapel. Entitled "The Creative Arts," Mr. Shaw's address will reflect how the high aspirations of western man have reached fruition through the arts, and how in turn the arts must be responsible for the propagation of good will and high ideals throughout the world.

The Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa will be conferred on the speaker by President Ray Robinson of Westminster. Citing his exemplary contribution and influence in the field of choral music, Dr. Robinson said, "Robert Shaw's influence in the field of choral literature, in particular the great choral-orchestral works, is truly monumental."

The commencement will combine the pagentry of the British tradition with a choral ensemble of 400 voices, organ, and brass choir. The public is invited, and no tickets or reservations are required.

SUMMER SESSION SET

At Hun School, Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, Headmaster of The Hun School, has announced that a new four-week co-educational summer session will be held at the school beginning June 30. It will be open to both day and resident students entering grades 7 through 12, and will include an enrichment program incorporating preview and review courses in the language arts and skills, mathematics, foreign languages, and other subject areas. In addition, there will be a special course for a limited number of students with learning difficulties under the direction of Mrs. Kathleen Dwyer.

The four-week session, to be held in air-conditioned facilities in the Student Activities Center, will replace the usual six-week summer school and require a longer academic day, 8-2:30, for students electing the maximum two-course schedule. "Emphasis will be placed on the development of good study habits under individualized supervision of a faculty," Dr. Chesebro said. David Leete, Director of Athletics at the school, will direct a basketball clinic, as well as other sports activities, on an optional basis for all students.

TO SPEAK AT STUART

Mrs. Sigmund to Re Heard. Barbara Boggs Sigmund, who taught at Stuart Country Day School until last June, will return to deliver the commencement address to the 24 graduates on Friday, June 6, at 5 p.m. Mrs. Sigmund, a Princeton Borough councilwoman, is currently serving on the staff of the Center for American Woman and Politics at the Eagleton Institute of Politics, Rutgers University.

She is the daughter of the late House Majority Leader, Hale Boggs, who spoke at the 1971 Commencement at Stuart, and the present Congresswoman from Louisiana, Lindy Boggs. A graduate of Stone Ridge Country Day School, she received her B.A. from Manhattanville.

Chairwoman of the Public Works Committee of the Borough, she is also a member of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees of Rider College, member of the Steering Committee of the Greater Mercer County Planning Council's project (HEW funded) to integrate social services of Mercer County, and member of the Governor's Committee on the Status of Women.

Did you ever hear the strange baseball story of the "jinx of the numeral 2" involving the only man ever killed in a major league baseball game, shortstop Ray Chapman of the Indians?... Chapman was fatally injured by a fast ball while batting against the Yankees in a game in New York in 1920... On that day, Chapman batted 2nd in the Cleveland lineup; he had come to bat 2 times; he had made 2 hits, each a 2-bagger; he had scored 2 runs; he had stolen 2 bases... In the field he had 2 putouts; he had made 2 assists and 2 errors... On that fatal day, he had been hit by 2 pitched balls, and it was the 2nd one that killed him.

Who are the best defensive players in big league baseball today?... A national sports service took a survey and those players receiving the most votes as best defensive players are George Scott, 1b; Joe Morgan, 2b; Mark Belanger, ss; Doug Rader, 3b; Paul Blair, Cesar Geronimo and Amos Otis, outfield; Johnny Bench, c; and Jim Katt, p.

PHS INVITED

To Compete in State Tourney. All along, Princeton High School coach William Cirullo has maintained that his lacrosse team is better than its 4-9 record would indicate.

Some strong outside substantiation came last week when PHS was invited to compete in the annual NJSIAA post-season tournament. The Little Tigers were scheduled to oppose top-seeded Montclair this Wednesday at Montclair.

In regular season play this spring, Montclair defeated PHS, 11-2. "I'm anxious to see what will happen," said Cirullo. "We'll have to have a superb day to beat them; we'll have to play super-excellent ball."

Montclair, he said, has an enormous club and "does everything well. We know what they can do and we've made a few corrections; at least we've seen them play." Montclair is a perennial state power in lacrosse.

PHS is ranked last among the eight high schools in the tournament. Last year, the first it competed in the event, it was eliminated in the first round by Hanover Park.

PHS was picked, Cirullo was informed by tournament officials, on the basis of its close games with strong teams throughout the season. "We posted close scores all year long, and were never blown out," Cirullo said, "so they felt we deserved a shot."

End with Victory. PHS ended its regular season last week with a 12-1 victory over Moorestown Friday and a 4-3 loss to Newton earlier. "We also of St. Catherine's, while played fairly well against Moorestown," Cirullo commented, but he added that the visitors were not a strong hall club.

The Newton game was far more typical of Princeton season. It lost in the final 12 seconds -- its sixth one-goal setback of the season.

Twice PHS had one-goal leads. Then with 50 seconds to go, Princeton's John Leshar was caught hitting an opponent on the head and was sent to the box. Describing the closing seconds loss, Cirullo said, "You know that story."

Alex Wert, Mace and Morgan Mohrman scored for PHS. In the Moorestown game, Mace scored five goals and one assist, while his brother Morgan had one goal and five assists. Alex Kinnan added three goals and Wert, Leshar and Dan Muri one apiece.

Both Mohrman brothers tied for high scoring honors for the season with 28 points each -- Mace scoring 16 goals and 12 assists, Morgan 15 and 13. Kinnan was third with 15 and 12 for 27 points. Alex Wert had 12 goals.

During the season PHS scored 73 goals and gave up 77. "For a 4-9 record that's pretty even," observed Cirullo.

CANADIAN CREWS WIN

In Schoolluy Rowing. The ice obviously melts early enough in Canada to permit young oarsmen in that country to become almost as proficient as young skaters are in the Old Dominion. When the 41st annual regatta of the Schoolboy Rowing Association of America was staged on Lake Carnegie last weekend, entries from St. Catherine's, Ontario, won a majority of the events.

Ridley College School was first by better than a length in the eight-oared senior race, covering the 1,500 meters in 4:35.8. The senior fours were paced by Grantham School, while

Babe Ruth Tryouts

Princeton Babe Ruth League tryouts will be held Thursday at 6 at the Valley Road School field. Rain date is the following day, same time and place.

Candidates must be Princeton residents (or attend a Princeton school), 13 and not more than 15 by August 1. They should bring their birth certificate and a registration fee of $7.50.

Sir Winston Churchill! High School from the same community won the junior fours without coxswain. In the junior four-oared race with cox, it was Dennis Morris School -- also from St. Catherine's.

American schools whose home course is the Schuylkill River near Philadelphia stood out among the entries from this country. The event was hosted by the Hun School of Princeton.

MUDGE, TARBOX WIN

In Springdale Tournament. The annual Member-Guest Tournament at Springdale Golf Club last weekend was won by Jack Mudge and his guest, Bruce Tarbox, a former assistant football coach at Princeton now on the staff at Army.

Their winning score was 59, two ahead of the runners-up. Each two-man team played 18 holes Saturday and 18 Sunday, using the best net ball on each hole. Players were allowed 85 percent of their handicaps.

In second place with 61 were John Brophy and his guest, R. O'Brien. In a three-way tie for third with 62s were Mac Morris and R. Tyler, Lloyd Ferguson and G. King, Ben Herrman and T. Booth.

NEW POSITIONS ASSIGNED

To Three at University. The appointments of Chester W. Dalgewicz as director of intermural athletics and Miss Susanna Occhi as assistant director of physical education have been announced by Royce N. Flippin, Jr., Princeton University athletic director and chairman of the department of physical education. At the same time, Flippin announced that varsity golf coach and Baker Rink manager Bill Quackenbush would assume additional facilities management duties as manager of Dillon Gym.

Dalgewicz has served as assistant wrestling coach for the past seven years, and as an instructor in the department of physical education. He was director of the NVAA wrestling championships which were held at Jadwin Gymnasium last March.

In his new position, Dalgewicz replaces Jack Volz, who is retiring this year after serving the University for 30 years both as a coach and administrator. Dalgewicz will be responsible for the coordination of one of the most comprehensive intramural programs in the country, administered by the Student Intramural Athletic Association, with participation by over 2,800 students.

Miss Occhi has achieved national recognition for her efforts in developing the club varsity volleyball programs for both men and women at Princeton. She has coached both clubs since coming here from the University of Delaware in 1973.

This past year, she directed the men's team to a 17-5 record and a third place finish in the Easterns, and was named coach of the year in the Eastern Collegiate Volleyball Association.

Quackenbush has achieved an outstanding record as varsity golf coach, leading the Tigers to a 64-5-1 record over the past five years. His teams have twice won the Ivy League title. He was varsity hockey coach from 1967 to 1973, and led the Tigers to their only NCAA appearance in 1968.

When Quackenbush assumed additional duties at Baker Rink, he changed coaching assignments and took over the freshman hockey team. However, the recent ruling by the Ivy Group Presidents to allow freshman eligibility in hockey meant the elimination of freshman hockey at Princeton, and brought about Quackenbush's added administrative responsibilities for the operation, maintenance, scheduling, supervision and security of Dillion Gym.

TWO TIES EXIST

For First Place in Softball, Firmenich and The First National Bank of Princeton hold first place in the National Division of the Business Softball league, while McGraw-Hill and Norelco are tied for first in the American Division.

Firmenich remained undefeated as it took Ingersoll Rand, 12-2, in a game which saw both Bill Faulkner and winning pitcher Bob Elkins hit home runs. Helping save the five-hitter for Elkins was the 3-4 hitting of Bill Faulkner's brother, Ray, and Tom Hummer's 2-3.

It was not the best of weeks for Ingersoll Rand, as it had to face First National Bank in a make up game, and lost that one, too, 16-0. First National's Wes Cawley had a perfect 3-3 night at the plate, featured by a booming home run. Helping winning pitcher Malcolm Rogers in his shut out was Bob Sherer's 3-4 batting.

It was Scherer's second good effort of the week as he hit 3-3 with a home run in First National's 15-2 defeat of RCA(B) earlier in the week. Cawley also hit 3-3 with a two-run homer, keeping First National undefeated in four outings this season.

Educational Testing Service continued its winning ways by downing IDA, 12-3, in a game which saw ETS shortstop Rich Lamata turn in a triple play. Nick Chantese hit 2-3 with a homer, and Bruce Szawst went 3-4. Bones Gilbert helped his pitching effort with a 2-3 night at the plate, and Patty Hughes in her only appearance at the plate thus far hit a single.

Norelco surprised UJB with its first defeat of the season, 15-0. Stan Cygen was the winning pitcher, backed up by Don Witt's 4-4 hitting, which included two home runs. Ken Potocki hit a triple and a homer as his contribution to the 17 hits by Norelco. With the loss, UJB moved to second place in the American division.

McGraw-Hill took on an undefeated Squibb team and beat it, 6-4. Mike Beauchemin and Bobby Wood hit homers for the bookbinders, and Al Pizzatello's 2-3 with two RBI's were key in the victory. Squibb had opened its season the previous week by beating Mathematica, 12-2, and Cities Service Research, 16-3, in strong hitting efforts.

RCA(A) came back from a 4-0 deficit to defeat Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Labs, 6-5. It took relief pitching by Mel Sanders to turn the trick for RCA, and the perfect 3-3 hitting with three RBI's by Jim Carnes to bring the runs across. In the only other reported action around the League, Forrester Research Center beat Princeton Day School, 8-4.

At the end of the fourth week of play, the standings for the league, by divisions, are as follows:

HUN ENDS WITH WIN

And 12-6 Record. "We can close up shop for another year," said Hun School coach Bill McQuade last week after his team had edged Blair Academy, 2-1, in its season's final game. The win - Hun's fifth in a row - enabled the Red and Black to finish with a highly satisfying .667 average: 12 wins, 6 losses.

"I'm really pleased...as much from this year's record as from previous year's when we won more games," said McQuade. "These boys came alive all year. Aside from Cathel and Petrone, the rest of the team had essentially no experience. I'm looking forward to next year already."

And well he might. McQuade loses only two starters—captain and second baseman Lonnie Cathel and first baseman Jeff Petrone. Also departing will be post-graduate student John Cirelli. "Basically, just two players," said McQuade.

In addition, McQuade will welcome back what he didn't have at the start of this season: a tested pitching nucleus. It will be headed by Ernie Barbiero who won the final game in relief for an 8-4 record on the season, and by Tom Summers (4-2). Together they accounted for all of Hun's wins this season. "Barbiero, Summers...one more pitcher and..." McQuade was off thinking sweet dreams for next spring.

Six Strong Innings. In the final with Blair, Summers had fashioned a two-hitter through six innings. In the final frame, a single and two-base error allowed Blair to tie the game and threaten to go ahead. McQuade motioned for Barbiero, who retired the next three batters in a row.

Hun won it in the seventh on singles by Cathel, Tom Dunn and Cirelli. It had scored its first run in the fifth on a double by Dunn and Petrone's two-out single.

Dunn and Barbiero finished the season tied for batting honors with identical .380 averages. They and Cathel were named to the first-team Penn-Jersey League. Sophomore outfielder Jim Cortina compiled a fine .372 average.

"I was sorry to see the season end; all of a sudden our bats were starting to come alive," said McQuade. Hun finished second to Pennington in the Penn-Jersey League with an 8-1 record. It's lone league loss was to Pennington (9-0). "We came close but we made some mistakes in the Pennington game," McQuade said.

PHS BEATEN, 72-59

By Bulldogs in Track. Charles Fortune won both hurdle events and Jeff Giovacchini the discus and javelin Thursday as Hopewell Valley defeated visiting Princeton High School, 72-59.

For the Little Tigers, Tony Strong was a double winner, capturing the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Royce Flippin won the mile (4:35.9), Barry Turner the long jump (19-6 1/4), Bob Ayling the pole vault and Bob Potrykus the two-mile.

PLAYERS NEEDED

For Women's Softball. The Princeton Recreation Department has organized a women's softball group which has been meeting evenings twice a week for instruction and practice.

However--and it is a big 'however'--unless more candidates respond, there will not be enough members to form a team and the possibility of games with teams in the Princeton area will come to naught.

For further information, call Denise King at the Recreation Department, 921-9480.

AWARDS MARK END

Of Women's Tennis Season. The Ladies' League at the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center concluded its season with final matches and presentation of awards. According to director John Conroy, it was the most successful season ever.

In the Monday League, the top award went to Wendy Barrie of Lawrenceville. Diane Johnston and Paulette Shinn, both from East Windsor, shared first place in the 1:00-2:30 p.m. group, followed by Dorothy Kamm of Princeton.

There was a tie for top honors in the Wednesday League between Mossik Sheldrake of Princeton and Shirley Porter of Hightstown. In the 1:30-3:00 p.m. group, Gwen Little of West Windsor was the winner, with Marty Pierson of Princeton Junction, second.

Princeton women dominated play in the Friday League with Karen Savidge the winner and Georgie Brennan runner up. Laura Goldfeld was the winner and Karen Bull the runner up in the 1:00-2:30 p.m. group.

PHS BLANKED, 3-0

By Steinert. For the third time this season, the Princeton High School baseball team failed in its attempt to win two in a row, bowing Friday to Steinert, 3-0.

The Little Tigers were scheduled to end their season this Wednesday at home at 3:45 against Hightstown.

PHS managed only three hits off Spartan hurler Mark Cubberley (4-3)--singles by Greg Warnagieris, Dave Segars and a pinch single by Don Seitz in the bottom of the seventh. Princeton had men on first and third with two out in the seventh and the tying run at the plate but Segars fouled out to end it.

Seitz, incidentally, has raised his batting average from .130 to .290 in the past two weeks to become the team's leading hitter. He started the season with one hit in 17 at-bats.

Warnagieris started for PHS and pitched one inning. After he walked the first two Steinert batters in the second and pitched a ball to the third, coach Jim O'Neill summoned John Madden. Madden walked the firstman he faced and then Pete Burd singled to right to score the Spartans' first run.

They added an unearned run in the fourth and an earned run in the sixth. Warnagieris took the loss, his fourth against one win. Madden walked five and struck out two in relief.

Princeton's record is 3-15. Steinert, an early season favorite to win heavily in league play, won its eighth against 11 losses.

MAKE-UP SCHEDULE SET

For Tennis Classes. Although the last spring group tennis lesson given by the Princeton Community Tennis Program is scheduled for Friday, there will be another full week of make-ups to accommodate rain days and missed classes.

Starting Saturday, adult and junior students who have attended the spring session will have a chance to attend make-up lessons until June 6. The hours for these additional classes differ from the original class time. Notices will be handed out by the instructors, or they can be picked up at the Tennis Office, 71 University Place.

Registration for the summer session, June 16 to August 22, is now in progress. Sign-ups for junior and adult tennis players can be arranged on a weekly basis to accommodate vacations.

An important meeting will be held Thursday evening at 8 at the Tennis Office to plan the summer's tennis activities. Junior and adult tournaments and the National Team Championships are on the evening's agenda.

eliminated by Northern Division 1 champion Tenaflly, 3¹/₂-1¹/₂.

The same morning at the Princeton University courts, PHS had ousted Southern Division champions Ocean City, 3¹/₂-1¹/₂ and Bernards, 4-0, on Friday.

"I was really pleased with the players," said PHS coach Bill Humes. He said that he had expected the northern teams, which have dominated the tournament over the past years, to be stronger than they were. "A lot of other teams are getting stronger," he said.

As for his own team, Humes believes it is a year away from its potential. No one will be lost through graduation—good news for Humes and bad for the opposition.

Against Tenaflly, Princeton's number two singles player, Dan Aronovic, was outstanding, winning 6-0, 6-1.

"He was making every shot. He really played a superb match," said Humes. "He wiped his opponent off the court. He was doing everything...serving, volleying...he was unbeatable."

No. 3 singles Steve Ebersole lost and Andre Eichenberger split two long sets, after PHS had already lost the match.

Both PHS doubles teams played well against Tenaflly "but just couldn't pull it off," said Humes. Malcolm Benjamin and Dan Schulman, number one, lost 7-5, 6-4, while Dan Amarel and David Bowen lost in three sets.

Oh, yes, along the way, PHS won the Central Jersey Championship in its division for the fifth straight year.

ONE MORE TO GO

PHS Nine Loses, 8-5. It was a holiday but the only one enjoying it was St. Anthony's which scored two unearned runs in the second and three unearned runs in the sixth to hand the Princeton High School baseball team its sixteenth defeat Monday, 8-5. St. Anthony, upset a week ago by PHS, is 16-6.

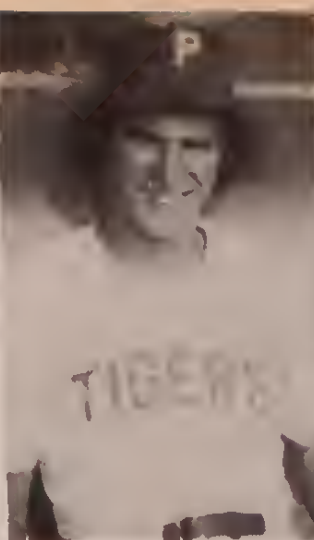

The Little Tigers scored four of their runs in the seventh. After Greg Robinson walked, Dave Robinson singled and Eric Jahn followed with a bunt single to load them up, sophomore Scott Thompson singled home a pair of runs. Pete Watson's single sent Jahn home.

Mike Boonin kept the rally alive with an infield hit off Iron Mike pitcher Bob Wieger and John Madden's grounder scored Don Seitz who had gotten on by a fielder's choice. Dave Seagers grounded to short for the final out.

The teams traded single runs in the first, PHS scoring on a walk, two errors and Eddie Volz's single. Starting pitcher Dave Kodner (0-4) took the loss—he was relieved by Watson—while Wieger upped his record to 5-1. His only loss was to PHS.

Thompson had two of Princeton's eight hits and Madden added a double. St. Anthony's collected nine hits off Kodner and Watson and committed four errors to three for the Little Tigers. PHS is 3-4 in its division in league play and despite the poor season has a chance to finish at .500 if it can win its final game scheduled for this Wednesday against Hightstown.

PHS CAREER ENDS:
When PHS completes its final baseball game, scheduled for this Wednesday, it will mark the end of a brilliant high school career in sports for Pete Watson, Little Tiger pitcher, who also excelled in football and basketball.

Princeton High School's band of highly-talented individual stars came through to earn 40 points and a second-place finish.

The top five qualifiers in each event advance to the NJSIAA State Championship meet to be held Saturday in Rutgers Stadium.

PHS sophomore Ken Bullock continues to sweep aside all the competition in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He won both at Highland Park in 10.1 and 22.3. Teammate Tony Strong placed third in each event. His times: 10.3 and 23.2.

Mark McLean won the pole vault with a 13-0 effort. He set the area mark this year with a vault of 13-9¹/₂.

Royce Flippin won the two-mile in 9:35.6 while teammates Tim Anderson (9:56.6) and Bob Potrykus (10:06) finishing third and fifth. Fred Berkelhammer leaped 6-0 to capture fourth place in the high jump.

Freshman Barry Turner and Dave Lion earned a trip to Rutgers by placing among the top five in the long jump. Barry jumped 19-11, while Lion finished fifth with an 18-7 effort.

The Little Tiger mile relay team of Strong, Bullock, Rick Hayne and Mike Bolster placed fifth with a clocking of 3:38.

PDS IS 2-1 VICTIM

Of Delbarton, Peddie, Princeton Day School returned to action on the diamond last week with a pair of carbon copy games. Unfortunately, both were 2-1 losses for the Panthers who watched their record drop to 5-7.

PHS led 1-0 at one time in both games. All the runs of the victors were unearned. Glenn Russo was the losing pitcher in both, limited Delbarton to four hits on Saturday and Peddie to six last Wednesday.

"We need a little hitting right now," commented PDS coach Tom DeVito who nonetheless feels his team has played excellent ball the last three weeks. "We've been in every ball game where a hit could have won it for us. We're hitting the ball hard at times and leaving men on base."

"We're playing good competitive baseball," DeVito stated but he acknowledged that "we're still not winning the big ones."

PDS scored its lone run in the fifth in each game. Against Delbarton, Russo tripled and scored on Mark Blaxill's sacrifice fly. A single, error and Steve Baker's single accounted for the run against Peddie.

PDS had a comeback rally going against Peddie, following singles by Russo and Frank Konstantywiec and a double steal that placed men on second and third. Then with two down, Brad Marcus skied deep to center and the Panthers came up empty handed after a circus catch by the Peddie centerfielder.

REGATTA HERE IN JUNE
Women's Championships Coming. The National Women's Rowing Association will hold its 10th annual championship regatta on Lake Carnegie from June 19 through 22.

The races will be held on the Lake's Albridge C. "Bud" Smith 2000-meter course, which was recently the site of the men's Eastern Sprint rowing championships and has been the training home of the United States men's national rowing team. More than 600 competitors representing some 50 schools are expected to compete in nine open events, eight lightweight events and four youth events.

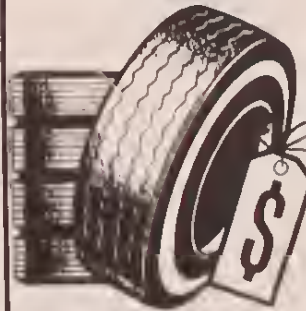

This year's regatta will mark the centennial anniversary of women's collegiate rowing in America. It will also be a main testing ground for rowers who will be seeking a berth on the 1976 United States Olympic team, when women's rowing becomes an official part of the Olympic program.
